

"Nothing less than a living sacrifice is demanded. Not a loan, but a gift; not a compromise, but a sacrifice; not our poorest, but our best; not a dead but a living offering. Each drop of our blood, each ounce of our energy, each throb of our heart, we must offer to God."

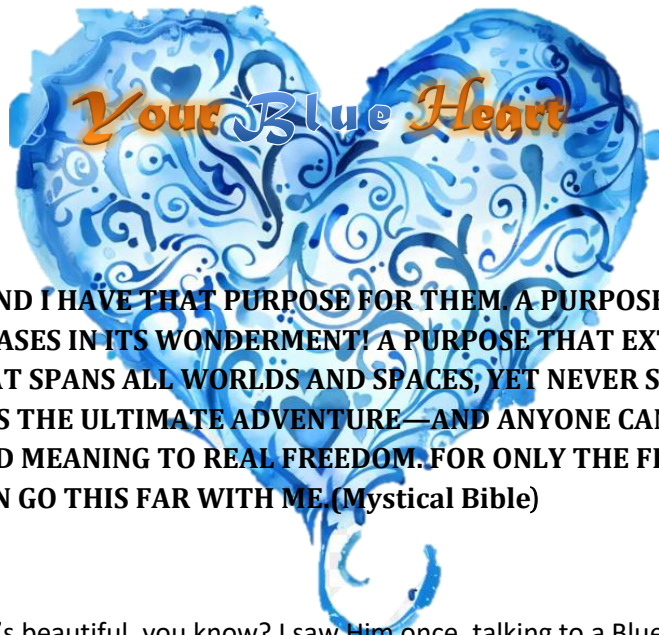

For those brides who wish to sit at this Table must drink our cups and must submit to giving all to that effort. For none else can pass through the door that is my Heart...my Blue Heart...none else can even hold the Key to that Door.... except you be bowed, even to the ground, can you even begin to comprehend this Sacred Place and hear the Words that are whispered Therein.

BLUE ANGEL:

THIS IS A LOVE STORY.

HOW I FOUGHT FOR YOU AND HOW YOU FOUGHT FOR ME. I LOVE YOU.

TAKE ME DEEPER THAN MY FEET COULD EVER WANDER.

ALL MEN WANT PURPOSE—AND I HAVE THAT PURPOSE FOR THEM. A PURPOSE THAT GOES ON AND ON, THAT NEVER DIMS OR DECREASES IN ITS WONDERMENT! A PURPOSE THAT EXTENTS OUT AND OUT; A BOUNDLESS ADVENTURE THAT SPANS ALL WORLDS AND SPACES, YET NEVER STOPS GROWING IN ITS EXCITEMENT AND JOY! THIS IS THE ULTIMATE ADVENTURE—AND ANYONE CAN BE A PART OF IT, IF THEY CAN FIRST FIND THE WAY AND MEANING TO REAL FREEDOM. FOR ONLY THE FREE CAN PARTAKE OF THIS JOURNEY, ONLY THE FREE CAN GO THIS FAR WITH ME. (Mystical Bible)

They're very close to the Lord... It's beautiful, you know? I saw Him once, talking to a Blue Being... He was so animated! So close and secure and intimate with her. It was very beautiful. I'm a Warrior Band member, and we strive to be close and intimate with the King, but still, I can say that I have not really reached to that sort of intimacy as I saw shared between the Lord and the Blue Beings...

I know it's there for everyone. He is not partial in His love. It is we who sometimes forget, who get satisfied and complacent at times. It is we, all of us, who choose to not have this greater intimacy with Him through our lack of enthusiasm to go higher up and deeper in.

They are a sample, much as you are a sample, of the Lord's great desire to be closer to all His brides. (Jesus Shrugs)

The Color Blue stands for Spirit, for deepness, and for the Word of God—it is also the color of wisdom and mystery. Wide as the boundless sky and mysterious as the ocean, Jesus is so immense. There is so much to discover... (The Blue Key comp. by John)

Her soul whispers: I'm looking into Your face and I'm in love. I'm looking into Your eyes and I'm lost... I'm the picture of the creature, the created giving all to the One who created her. The One Creator, my Love, my Love how I have longed and thirsted to be completely One with You. I have no other purpose than to just love You, to adore You, to worship You, and I chose this. I choose this every breath and I keep going deeper.

You are my Wonder, my one adventure and journey; my endless joy and ecstasy. You are. You are... I love You and I want to prove it with every breath I breathe. I want You, God, I choose You. Not Heaven, not Earth, it's You. I choose You. Build in me and make me Yours. Color me with You and never allow the remembrance of myself to appear in me... I want to stay here within Your heart ... being filled only with You and knowing only You, feeling only You. Jesus You are the

One Thing that can ever be enough to take this deepest craving and just keep filling my heart, never running out, never leaving me. Thank You...I have no words...my heart bursts... all I can do is fall hopelessly to worship You. You Jesus... it's You I love You.

October 5th 2024 Enchant me with your Eyes. Please enchant me away from all that is earthly. Open my eyes to the true wonders. Take this offering of all I ever wanted and my pride...I'm kneeling here at your feet and begging you to show me what reality is.

Show me your heart. I want to know your secret. I have already caught glimpses of your soul and what I see makes me feel every care I've ever had foolish. Your deepness leaves me floundering and I can only allow myself to get lost in this unfathomable deep. You fascinate me and I want to hold your heart in my hands and learn how you have loved and loved and let that love leave you with only transparency and utter surrender. I long for you because I want to hear what you hear and understand what you understand. I want to see through your eyes and see what you see...I want to hold onto the Love that is your very life. "

I want to feel the way you feel

I want to know the things you know

I want to touch the things that move you

I want to make your dreams my own

I want to give you of myself

Till our hearts beat as one

And more than all else

To love the way you love

(Florence Mcnair )

October 2024 She is so humble; she becomes like a servant to me even though she is One with the King of the Universes ...it's so beautiful Jesus. I want to be part of this and I want to take this gift that You've given, but every time I stretch out my hand to take hers...everything in me is pulling me away. My mind, my very self refuses everything she stands for. I buck and kick when it's actually time to drink humility and to die to self. I turn away from her and I say no. Why do I say no?

Saramay: you are mine; you are for Jesus and because of this I will never let you have peace on this Earth. I will stand before you and call to you even though every fiber of your flesh and mind is calling you the opposite way. I won't stand for it, my love. I will do what Jesus has sent me to do and I will not let you have peace while choosing the lesser way. My presence in your life will not allow you to be content in this carnal world...like an evil spirit that torments its victim, so I will be to you if I see that you are choosing the wrong things...even if your physical life became everything you desired, I would be that one thing within you that wouldn't allow you to find happiness, because if you choose the lesser way, the way of flesh, you are turning away from me and your destiny... I know your heart and you fear this, but I won't let you go, not without a fight. That's why the Lord has to lay the rod on you; He doesn't want you to be satisfied and leave His side in complacency and compromise. He wants to see purity and light in you and I will keep sharing myself with you till you too reflect His glory. But for that to happen, the scales have to peel off your eyes, so that you might behold His true nature, and yes, your true nature. Your nature is all about self-preservation, while mine is to give it away. Everything in you is fighting against that right now, but don't see you now? That is the beauty of Earth Life...it's taking everything out of you and that is good. You fell on your face again and now as you lift yourself on your elbows, you're seeing things you didn't see before. You are breaking in ways that you could never get in Heaven. I told you before that this is a drastic place, but it's just what you needed. The blows that we send your way are beating out the pride and because you have been promised to me I won't leave you and I will fight for you with all my strength. I'll keep reminding you of our love when all you feel like doing is running away. I will remind you how having me here is a very, very great reward that you only got through going to Earth...(like you learned through John's prophecy). Realize what you've been given and grab ahold of it desperately, earnestly...it doesn't really matter what your physical life is like when you realize what you hold in your hands: this great pearl that has been offered to you at the price of anything that you could call on your own...down to your very fibers and your oxygen. It feels like sometimes we are asking that much of you and you don't know how to react or what to do...how can you possibly give us your oxygen, till you don't have any? Yes, we want that much of you...we want every breath you take to be giving glory to Him. And to even begin to reach that state, you must put your feet on this path: this path of submission and just saying yes, You know better.

Your "life" can pass you by as you gaze transfixed at Him standing before you, calling you. I'm not a misty imagination; I am real and I am asking that you step out of your world and into this one...there's nothing for you to live for in that carnal plane, so leave it behind...it will never be enough for you...

Your heart belongs to us, even though your mind rebels and fights against this complete tearing away. Your flesh cries out and it makes you feel like it's impossible, but it's not. Yield to my beckonings even though it will cost you everything to do so--everything of your flesh, which is in reality nothing. You feel so hazy and lost and afraid, but if you just choose to step away from your flesh and pass through the door I can work with that. I can pull you closer and really begin your training as a proper bride. Don't you want to give Jesus what He most longs for? Then take my hand and I will lead you through every test and breaking that you must pass through to reach our ultimate goal.

"But I will not share what I have with you till you are yielded; till you are broken; till you see that those things of the flesh and your pride mean nothing compared to what I hold within me. I want you to hunger so deeply for me that you are willing to actually have nothing in the physical to hold you up...not even what you would call self-esteem and worthiness. Let your heart gain strength to survive the roughness of journey, not what they call self-assurance and self-respect, but through seeing at last that it's Jesus and deeply loving Him and letting His Heart rule over yours"

"Your heart belongs to us, even though your mind rebels and fights against this complete tearing away."

(Spirit helper speaking:) "Learn to walk the humble road. Take the humble way of thinking. "I don't really know, unless I've just been updated now, fresh in the spirit. I do have much to learn."

See, if you keep putting yourself in a seat of humility, then you don't have to be forcibly humbled just to keep you on track and out of Satan's traps.

Traps are for the proud who think they know where they are going and can do as they please.

Traps are for the proud who thinking they can get along fine on their own two feet.

Traps are for those who can't take a drop of humility when it comes to them in a cup to drink. But the humble are thirsty, and even if it is hard to swallow, they take the cup of humiliation and drink it, as they are thirsty for the truth. So the humble do get refreshed, the humble are given stamina to carry on.

We watch for the humble levels in a person's soul, and must knock them down a notch or two, or quite a few if that's a need. So don't think that you are going to soar or sail along even for a day without something that tests your pride, something that tries to get pride to flare up; and there won't be a day without a test of humility, something that makes and keeps you humble."( Kaye)

Ocotober6th I want better fruit from your garden. I'm not happy with what you are, so I will pull down and destroy. I see the darkness in you that could eventually bring you to ruin, so I will come in with My sword and cut down. Break now upon the Rock, or it will fall on you and ground you to powder. Don't be angry at those who are over you...for they love light and hate darkness and that is what is sadly lacking in you. Accept the rod upon you, for whom I love I chasten and I see that evil darkness in you and I hate it, so I will purge and purge till you either drop off or you come running to Me empty-handed.

***

Clear: I was given to you as a door; a door is like a teacher—to pass through this section of your spiritual growth, you must pass through me.

Is there a Key for this part of the journey, Clear?

Yes, it is called the Key of Intimate Love. It has already been given to you, but now you must use it more earnestly.

Where is it hanging?

Between my breasts, close to my heart. ( Mystical Bible)

***

The Keye of Humility hangs between the breasts of the Blue angel, call on this Keye and the path of Transparency will open before you.

24th October

How can I be humble like you...

Can you even grasp such humility? No, you can't yet. You can't comprehend all that I have done and all I am willing to do. Jesus can send me to do anything, because I have no form; I have nothing to call my own; I have no self; no image; no wish to be seen or praised; no desire except Him and His desire; my every breath is humility and praise to Him whom is the only One worthy of Worship. You can't understand such humility or such complete oneness. I am not putting myself out of your reach...I just want you to see the road you are walking on. It is one where self must die. You are thinking, you have heard that one a lot and you have gotten familiar with the phrase, but sweetheart that's what is required and that isn't something that you flippantly say you are willing to do, until you have tasted a little bit of what it means. I see that you know a bit what it might mean, but my dear, we still have much to show you that might blow your mind. Right now your thoughts are wired towards self and selfish ways, but little by little as you come to me and as you pass through every self-crushing and pride-abasing experience...I take one of those little wires and I put it in the right place: wired to Jesus' desires instead of your own. It can seem a slow process as I take one wire at time, and even sometimes you stopping me while I am in the middle of it...it is a long struggle against self and pride...seeing they are your wired-in nature. But darling, listen to my words carefully...it is not impossible thing. You have to crave humility more than any thing and you have to be willing to lose touch with yourself. You must leave off taking care of yourself, letting Jesus do that. You must disappear first in your own mind, before you can disappear before others. Your own must melt away leaving only that raw passion for Jesus. How is this possible, you ask? I know it's so much for your mind to take. You are proud and selfish without even realizing it, and that why Jesus is putting you through these hard tests that leave you floundering and drowning. You must yield to it no matter how much it hurts. The hurt is "self" dying and it is good for you. Yes, there are so few parts of this journey to humility that don't hurt your flesh so much. I know some days you fall down in despair because you feel it costs too much and you are in too much pain, and still cannot even catch a glimpse of my face...you can't catch the cloud that is supposed to be your goal and this kills you. It is like a woman giving birth...if she focuses on the pain, she will lose sight of the goal and if she lets the pain take over she will lose control and might even not win the battle, but give in to the exhaustion. So you must let your pain give birth to the humility and selflessness that is the goal. The pain is the means to the end, just like childbirth. Yet, there is no other way except through that pain, and you don't really have a choice if this the road you chose...it's worth it dear and you must simply follow Our words, and take the breakings that come, remembering that every day is another test of your humility and another time to choose to die to yourself or to preserve that stinking flesh. It's not up to you to "become humble" just as it's not my job to shine with Blue and Gold, but just to be willing and to put my heart in His hands letting Him do what He sees is good, and then obeying His Words. Then little by little He lets the Light in, to replace the darkness and little by little you change and become something humble. Not something useful, or something beautiful and good, but something humble and there is no limit to what He can do with something like that. That's how I am willing to be your servant...me as a higher being in every way, have put myself at your service and that is because of love and because of utter humility...just as Jesus was a servant of all, so am I. And just as He became so low to win you, so I lower myself to reach you with Jesus' words and to train you in the way of being His lover.

"So You Must Let Your Pain Give Birth to Humility"

Call on the Keys of Humility and Love.

Love is total humility; total sacrifice

26th October Why do you think the key of Humility is between my breast right at the door of my heart? For two reasons actually. It's like a reward for me to carry this precious Key, for this Key was carried by Jesus Himself from the Heavenlies to Earth when he went on His mission. There He unlocked its every secret and activated its full power. Because He was actually willing to use and be used by it, the power He was able to wield by it was unlimited. He was willing to set aside His God head for a time and became your lowly servant and through this Key of Humility was fully utilized and activated. It lit up and it hasn't stopped shining since that day. So although Jesus when He went Earth took the Key of Death and Hell from Satan, He also unlocked other Keys and discovered their full power. All the keys have deeper magic that must be unlocked, by calling on them and letting them possess you, is a way to unravel their mystery. Other times it can take getting more counsel in prophecy, like with my very own Blue Key. Since the time it was given, many prophecies have been received about its secret and hidden powers and this is helped you to use it properly. So yes, Jesus unlocked the Key of Humility and it lit up. He did what Satan would never do and that is become lowly servant and for that He is worthy. Because He was willing to have nothing and be nothing, He was given all things and all the Keys power became His.

REV.5:12 Saying with a loud voice, Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

REV.5:13 And every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, Blessing, and honour, and glory, and power, be unto him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb for ever and ever.

. So when He returned in victory...it was decided that we Blue Beings and Blue angels should now carry it. As both a reward and a protection against that evil sin of pride. He asked me to keep it safe for Him and any who desire true humility must come to me and humble themselves under my hand, to learn of me and to learn of true humility. You must humble yourself to love me and kiss me, before you can even reach for this special Key. It is high-priced Key, for it cost our Jesus all He had to master it and unlock its full potential. Since that time, it hasn't stopped shining, and every moment that passes as it hangs over my heart, I am reminded of His love and of His sacrifice. Come to me and you too can benefit from this precious gift that has been given to me...I want with all my heart to share it with you.

November 2024 Saramay: All keys are deeper than they appear to be and many spirits have made it their mission to delve deep into particular keys and learn their secrets. Some of these spirits who have made such commitments have even been blessed with the same attributes of the Key they chose to study and learn from. One such is Aphrodite, who being a tender spirit, chose to learn from the Keys of love and they enveloped her. And she chose to surrender to that, until she became a strong spirit of love. Not all the entities you see have done this; some were created for a particular cause and but yes, they still had to choose to follow that path. Like Lucifer was created to uphold the Light, but he rebelled against his calling and it then was given to Lucerne and Gabriel to take up, but be sure that they had to yield to this commission, for it takes great humility to bear the Light. Only some of the beings that you know of were students under certain Keys until it became their life's calling and destiny. Jesus has a special calling for everyone and all must seek and find it, and upon finding it, they must surrender to it. It was your destiny to go to Earth and if you hadn't said yes to it, you would have missed out greatly...yet it was Sonora's calling to stay back, for you both had different lessons to learn, so never regret going to that plane, no matter how dirty the fight gets or how bad it looks. It was your path and you had to walk down it, no matter how bitter or trying.

Yes, once I saw the Path of Blue and the Purple mist, and the Blue Key was presented to me, I became its pupil and I let it change me and teach me these higher things that I now impart to you, for you too are a student under this Hallowed Blue Key.

It is the Key to the Higher Dimensions of the Spiritual Realm, and one must have access to this Key before being allowed to travel them. It is one of the Master Keys, as I am sure you have realized exist in the Spirit World. There are Higher Keys to Higher doors, and if one wishes to access them, they must be willing to give more. Yes, you have heard that Key of David is a Master Key and it is that Key that opened many secrets to your father David and why you are standing where you are standing today. He yielded to its power and fulfilled the calling to put upon his life. So must you yield to the calling the Blue Key is putting upon you, for it too will help you along your path of service to your Husband.

Aren't you glad that you came to Earth...that you could be more than just a warrior, but a bride too? You needed to be trained in the ways of being a humble lover, a little wife and I am your teacher in this, so listen well as instruct, and I will use my Key on you and change your frequency from bad to good, and every day you will shine a little brighter. Earth life brought the evil out in you...and you are things that you never imagined you would be while you were in Heaven. But it is a quick way to gain humility and submission and as you choose willingly to die to the flesh your spirit has the chance to grow in magnificent ways.

Does every spirit and being have a Key to unlock their destiny?

There are the more known Keys that many use to help them reach their destiny, but yes there is a particular Key for each one to fulfill their mission for Jesus and become what they were created to be. Sometimes groups share Keys and destinies, like the Blue Angels share the Blue Key and the Cathars share the Key of Unity and Brotherhood. The Keys are there for those call on them and they will be the light in your dark way and the staff that you lean upon when you are weary... the Keys will lead you to your destiny and calling and reveal to you the secrets that will help you fulfill what you were created to be. They will unlock each door you come to in your journey through life. Then as a familiar and trusted friend you will lean on them and they will give you courage to take the next step when you find yourself faltering. You are yet to know that special Key that will unlock your reason for existence before you, so for now learn under me and the Blue Key and others, so that you can succeed in this Earth mission and gain every gift that it is offering you and don't miss any through unyieldedness and unwillingness to follow humbly and be anything that you might gain something from all this suffering. The Keys are strong enough to carry you through anything if you would only lean on them and tie them to your body and mind, so that when you get here they can be embedded into your very soul and spirit.

Sometimes the methods they use are a hard saying to you, as they fall heavy upon you, forcing you to kneel. If they can't bring out the nastiness in you by loving coaxing, they will strike you down upon the ground that you might learn their true nature and their true beauty through sorrow. They'll beat the stubbornness out of you if they have to, and you must not resist them, for they are your loving Master's hand upon you and unless these things were done you wouldn't learn through hard things to love and praise your Lord. So open your heart to their ways and use them and let them use you... Because if you loved them here and now, they will be your covering forever and you, like me will fulfill your reason for creation.

30th October Sonora: Why is your soul so cast down? Why are you in such despair when all Jesus is doing is securing your place next to Him? He is making it official and doing it properly. And you are angry about it. You know it's not just a cool-sounding indium when Jesus says He wants everything you have, every stitch that might be holding your life together He wants to remove and replace with His own. So what are you going to do about it? Get angry and say it's unfair when all He is doing is keeping His Word. Saramay has been telling you these things and you are willing to receive them when it's written on the page, but when it comes into your life to fulfill its promise you are offended

. Let the Rock crack your obstinate heart so that the Lord can make something useful out your otherwise proud and stubborn form. Yes, you are proud and He needed to break that place. He is taking your physical circumstances now, and shaking you up through them and He has been doing for some time, but I assure you if you truly want to walk this path, then He will be dealing with you every way when He sees the time is right. He wants every sinew of your heart and spirit to know what it means to love above all things. And when you have nothing left to hold anymore, He still wants you to desire Him above all.

Then I place My hands over your hands, but not before I witness the wonder that lights up your face as you catch sight of the palms of My hands. "Oh!" you exclaim, as your fingers trace the inside of one of My palms. "I always wondered if Your hands still bore the marks of the nails, but instead of scars or holes from the nails, there's an imprint of a beautiful key on each palm!" You smile as you conclude, "Of course, yes, of course, I should have known."

21. Yes, My darling, just as I invited dear Thomas to put his fingers inside the wounds of My hands so that his doubts would be allayed, so I invite you to run your fingers over the imprint of the keys on each of My palms. You see, there is no need for you to see the nail imprints anymore, for you have accepted My forgiveness and salvation, and as My bride, you know of My deep, unconditional, intimate love for you. Instead of scars you will find the imprint of the keys on My hands, for they are the entrance whereby we become as one body.

22. I place My hands securely over yours. A beautiful glowing pulse begins to emanate from the palms of My hands--an energy that moves within Me--causing an aura of power to surround My hands. As My hands overlay yours, that power is translated first through your hands, then up your wrists until our entire arms begin to merge as one.(Art Of Dependence, The - A Spirit Trip [#3619])

28th Jesus: you are yet to really know all I have in store for you. You don't yet know the extent of the Wonders that are My Spirit holds. I want you to desire these things and crave them. I want you to take your Blue angel's hand and walk down the path that is prepared for you. It is full of sacrifices and yes, you will fall and stumble, but as you advance, the dullness of road is changing into something magical, something beautiful and compelling, and I want you to give yourself to this wonder and not get stuck on Earth when there is so much to see in the Spirit. I want to fill your eyes with beauty so that you will never want to go back to that Earthly plane. Although you heave and sigh in that carnal world, for it is very hard on you to stay there and fight in that realm, but I have made a way of escape for you that you may be able to bear it. And this is it; take My Key-engraved hand and let your mind go, for it cannot come with us. Then you must let these moments shared between Me and Saramay and you sustain you as you walk through life, and keep your eyes on Heaven, on the Heaven that we shared together, no matter what has gone wrong in your life and what you wish wasn't the way it was. There will always be pain while you are there on Earth and it is ever drawing you into our world where that pain can be understood and accepted and healed, so while you must go through that pain and struggle, you must not stay there with it; you must use it as a stepping stone and jump up using the Keys and then I will catch you up and together we will go over all you experienced in the flesh and Saramay will fill you with the energy from the Power House and you will be renewed to face any hard thing that hits you there in the physical. I am always looking to strengthen your spirit regardless of the discomfort to the flesh and mind that you must endure. I am not looking to preserve or strengthen your flesh, so I might treat you roughly in the physical, because at times that is the only language it understands. So you must not get offended, because I am primarily interested in the betterment of your spirit and most of the time, the flesh must suffer in order to sharpen your spirit. It must endure these hard lessons, to beat out that worldliness and that carnality, so your spirit can have the chance to grow and learn to fight. I love your spirit and I am helping you when you cannot help yourself. Your flesh is a heavy weight, but as your spirit lifts it each day and doesn't succumb, but keeps fighting, it is strengthened and I can use such a spirit as that. A slothful spirit doesn't fight the flesh, but gives in to every whim of the mind and body...and goes down the path of carnality and flesh which doesn't lead anywhere really...so be courageous and fight the flesh and resist it, for though it is part of you... it is a part that you fight, not that you get along with. (End)

***

This is why I allow the attacks to be so fierce at times. These things are needed in order to cleanse your spirit, to drive you ever closer to Me, to take away all the props of the world, to remind you that there's nothing and no one you can count on but Me. Because deep down at the core of your spirit is that knowledge of the spiritual plane where our union exists in such a pure and exquisite way that you have absolutely no doubts or questions as to My power and strength in you, and the fact that there's absolutely nothing the Enemy can do to touch you or exact upon you, no matter what he tries. It's easy to forget this in the hustle and bustle and clamour of life and the spiritual battles you face, so I sometimes have to allow things to come up in your or others' lives to strip away all the gloss and props and take you back to the basics of this fundamental truth--that we share a love so powerful and timeless, there's nothing it can't overcome.(Nothing Is Too Hard For Jesus)

25th

Blue Angel: I love you and this is timeless and powerful love is what I feed into your thirsty spirit now. I am standing at the edge of this plane where your connection to Jesus exists and I am drawing you closer. I don't want you to live in this other plane anymore. I am trying my best to woo you away from it, for it is where all your problems and pride hold you so strongly, so instead of staying there fighting it out, I want you to vanish away and fly with me to where none of it can touch you. There are so many cares, there is pain and regret, and there are the constant attacks of the enemy there on that familiar plane. That is the world and when you dwell there, you can barely look up and catch a glimpse of me as I call you into His presence. You can't even see a way to reach me from where you are, but Jesus has given you many pieces of this higher plane, to ensure you can make it here again...these pieces are reminders that you aren't of that plane. They are keys, they are prophecies and they are memories of the love we have shared, and you have to only focus on them and let your heart remember what it is you are living for. None of these things you see or experience are the end...they are just short tests and you must see them as such or else you risk getting trapped in them and losing sight of the reason for it all.

Darling, just hold my hand, be my girl, I'll be your Man

October 5th Blue Angel: Are you lonely?

Look at this Key...look at Blue Light shining off it...I stretch out my palm for you to see it. This is key is our undeniable connection and though you were alone, you shall never be desolate for I am with you, to love you, to understand you and hold your hand. I will light your sad eyes with my happy smile and will color your dark world with my bright form. I will stay with you in your room and walk with you as you go about your day...and every moment that passes I will love you...no human can fill this loneliness, for it is an aloneness that calls to me and I come to you and wrap my hand in yours and let you feel the that beautiful key between our fingers. The feeling of loss does you good, it means you are striving for something that not many others wish for...I feel that special kinship with you that way. I know you have forsaken people and places just as I have and that makes me feel like drawing close to your heart because I have done the same to get where I am today. I don't feel sad about it...I feel exhilarated and I want to share this with you. There's nothing to be sorrowful about, when you see Him in all His beauty. This place doesn't have to suffocate you when you we sitting in His presence. Where you are and what you have is insignificant when you look at Him and realize He is all you ever wanted. You feel so small and suddenly you don't matter anymore...you reach out your hand like a child and He takes you and gives you the most valuable of treasures...you realize your own worthlessness without Him. That's what has become of me. He can use me for anything, and I am ready to be of service...I am nothing; yet I am everything to Him; I am just servant and slave, yet He lets me into His heart of hearts...that deep chamber where the Golden waters flow and where the Light and Truth that is shared is unmatched in its glory. So few, so very few enter into this sacred chamber. But He wants to give you a chance to enter in at the door...if you would just see the priceless treasure that is yours for the taking and how you are privileged above many to even have me, the door, to this Holy Place. So yes, Jesus has made your physical life a desolate one that you might run and seek higher things. He has given you many gifts and one of them is the gift of desolation and you must take it with both hands and cherish it, for it will lead you to finding many keys to many doors and by it you have the chance to go far and to touch my very soul as you seek and find these wondrous things. I am here waiting for you...please don't waste Jesus' gifts and tools He presents to you...for each gift He gives you, whether it is a gift of pain or a light Blue Key, they are your tools to reach your destiny and you must not squander any such gift. Take each one and unlock it and use it for all its worth, for that is the way you will reach this inner Chamber of His deep SOUL. There are many doors, but He has not withheld from you any key...maybe you missed some because they looked to you like something very undesirable and painful...so you didn't open certain doors, but be sure that He will bring you back and hand you that same plain key and ask that you cast it not aside, but use it to the best of your ability, which is a lot when you are depending on us. Use each difficult circumstance...first let it drive you to the door and there you will be presented with a key. At times you have to lie down flat on your face in order to find the key and at other times you must reach higher than you think you are able, but be assured the key is there and it is obtainable. Each time you unlock a door you are that much closer and these many doors and challenges are not a waste of time, but they are growing you into something humble, something beautiful, something gentle and yielded. So take each key and cherish them and you will be likened unto me, for I too walked through all the doors and I never looked back because I knew this is what I wanted above all else.

If your flesh is given respite, it doesn't grow the spirit, it only satisfies the flesh for a brief period, and then the battles continue again. (June 09_ That Fat Pig Obstacon)

The temptation that makes you feel sick

I'm going to crack and give in...

Blue angel: Bury your head in my shoulder and don't worry about what is bombarding you in your thoughts each moment. It gets to the point where you are afraid of your own thoughts because they are asking for things that you don't want to give them. It's a raging battle of wills, and since it is all going on inside of you, you feel beside yourself with the intensity. You shake with the struggle and you just long for peace, but whilst in the flesh there must be war. For it is always a war of spirit against flesh. It's the will of your flesh and mind against your spirit and what it knows Jesus has asked of it, so you feel torn and like there is no escape from this back and forth in your mind. The carnal mind will not submit to our ways; it will fight every step you try to take and will pull you every which way if you let it. It pounds and pounds and pounds on the door...yelling every enticement and lure imaginable to try to get you to listen. It knows what works and if you aren't a good fighter, its list will be pretty short before it gets you to open the door and let it in for a talk or more. You don't feel like you can resist it...it's taking everything of you to keep the door shut and it hurts because it makes you feel like you are really missing out on something, but come to me and let me hold you in my loving arms. Let me soothe the longing and the frustration. Don't focus on your mind and your desires right now. You are tired from the battle, so lie down with me. Turn your eyes away and hold on to me as tightly as you need to. I know it's painful to continually say no to your own body and mind...and it can really get hot and tiring, seeing as they very much a part of you. I know it is stretching you, but you must keep holding on. Hold onto me and breathe the relief will come when you remember what is really worth caring about and what is just vanity. The truth will hit home as you focus on it and the pounding on the door will grow a tiny bit quieter. As you feel my arms hold you, you bury your face in my hair...let my scent fill your lungs and you will find yourself longing for Jesus and forgetting these dirty things that are knocking on your door. These things that claim to be so important to your happiness, that tell you, you won't survive in the world that we are offering, but that in reality will only leave you sad and empty. You feel like you're dying to shut them out and refuse them, as they scream to you that you are walking into an impossible dream and that you will probably never be satisfied, but turn away from that door and come to me... I run my hands through your hair and kiss you tenderly. I put my forehead against yours and let the peace in me flow into you. I want to release you from the pressure to give in. You must let me strengthen you for the battle of resisting the carnal mind and embracing only what We are saying to you. I want to help you overcome, but you have to open your heart and lock your mind's door and let me lead you up and away. Let me take you where your spirit longs to go, where your carnal mind has no power and where we will be enveloped in Jesus and His overpowering Presence. This is the place where I can begin to impart to you my secrets and my desire, so that you can learn to know and love His heart as I do. That is my greatest desire, so please fight these things that only drag you away from this sacred place.

But in the heat of the fight, it's so hard to remember all this and all I want to do is give in

They are only offering you plastic peace and fake relief from whatever pain you might be experiencing. The rest of the world is trapped in this, and they are being tormented day and night by their "desires". You know what it's like to be ruled by something that only wants to kill you, and it is a living misery, and that is what the whole world is going through. You must separate yourself from their ways and cast them from your midst. The enemy has designed all these different addictions to ensnare you and to torture and eventually kill you. He wants to ruin your chance of ever winning the victory, so he makes it so very difficult to resist, but that is where you must throw yourself on your weapons and remember to what end you were created. You must employ all our help to even stand a chance against their onslaught. They are our mortal enemy and you must always remember this, for they will appear so appealing and it is such a relief to give in. Immediately he feeds you peace, of course, once you are defeated the fighting will stop, and you sink into his well laid trap, but yes once you decide to fight again, the battle will come on HEAVY and that is when the temptation to give up is the strongest, but you must not ever do that, unless you refuse them with all your strength you will follow after them and land in a place that is dry and desolate. I am pulling you with my eyes and my words and your mind is pulling in the other direction, you mustn't let it win over you, for there is no beauty and life where it wants to take you-- just disappointment and more longing for things that you can't actually find. There will be relief; there will be; you must believe me and not succumb. Give me leave and let me turn your face away with my hands. Just nod your head if you feel like you can't actually say yes and I will pull your face to look into my eyes and you'll see stars, see universes and see the love and beauty Jesus wants to give you. Look into my compelling eyes and let your spirit come...come be filled; come be loved and be changed into what Jesus wants. You will find true peace once you throw your all onto our side, and then we will run to the door and barricade it strongly. Of course you don't just do that once...you must do it each day, and every time the knocking on the door reaches your ears. But it will help you look away and look instead at my loving eyes beckoning you to a far more beautiful place than you could ever imagine.

You can't be looking two places at once; that's why you haven't been able to hear me so clearly because you are looking out the door and wanting to let in my enemies, the enemies of your spirit, those who only want to ruin everything for you, to weaken your faith and destroy your destiny. ...You have to refuse to let them do that, even if it hurts you now, it is strengthening you more than you realize. Every time you resist them, you gain a little more strength to resist them next time. We can draw that much more close to you instead of keeping our distance because of your bad choices. We don't want to leave you to those devils and demons, but we cannot override your free will. Close that door and then there will open to you greater doors than you could ever imagine. Give up those things that are right in front of you and turn and walk away from them into His beauty-filled Kingdom of Wonders and Mysteries.

Faith has never been about proof. Faith is holding onto hope that there is truth in what seems unbelievable!

“The more you call on the keys, the less hold pride will have on your life, for in calling on the keys you acknowledge your own weakness.

The Keys embody Humility and conquer pride.”

“Key power finds its surest dwelling place and its greatest power in the heart and spirit of the humble.”

Blue angel: You must call on these Keys, and you must believe in their power. You must realize your smallness and let their power envelop you and change you. “For in calling on the Keys you acknowledge your own weakness...so acknowledge it and let the Keys shine brighter to you. They want to show you just how weak you are without their power, how destitute and poor you are unless you are calling on them. Can you hold fire and not be burned? So it is with these Keys; they are live power and they consume pride. If you call on them, be sure that they will begin to work in your life, in ways that you can’t imagine and didn’t expect. And it is because they are alive, and they won’t dwell with you alongside your self-righteousness and pride. If you resist their advances, they won’t give their power to you anymore no matter how much you call for them, but if you surrender to their dealings with you, they will be to as molten lava and melt onto your very being. That is the nature of the Keys...they aren’t created to be held in the hand and then put back on the shelf. Nay, they will not stop till they are either burning power running through your veins, or cold metal that doesn’t help you any because of your refusal to give all to their advances and fall desperately into them, letting them remake you whatever the cost to you personally. Let the living, burning Keys have their way with you and you will be what you were created to be.

What’s that darkness in me that You talked about before

Spirit helper: most of all that darkness is your own will and it comes out as rebelliousness, anger and pride, because you are weak in those areas right now. You hang on to what you think is best and you don’t let the searing truths to really reach your heart and change you. that’s why this time of learning has hurt so much...because you are seeing that you are and have been wrong and that you haven’t been what He’s wanted. The reason you couldn’t hear our checks is because you were too wrapped up in self and your own will. When you lost your phone back in July, we talked about this, but you let life blind you and you didn’t follow through on our words of counsel, so we have to bring you back to it.

From July: “I want your heart free of this blockage, but it might take time. It depends on you and what you choose every day. I want to pick apart this blockage piece by piece, string by string. I won’t give up if you don’t. Yes, this blockage stops you from hearing from Me clearly, but that too can be healed.

Now we can begin on your heart that is heavy with these blockages. One by one I will uncover these things. Test by test I will refine you as gold. You have to fully enter in this battle, and come to Me every day to be stripped and shown what’s wrong here and what’s wrong there. You are My bride and I’m not willing to let you be consumed by these things. So I’ll work on you step by step. We’ll climb this high mountain together. Don’t go back on Me when the sorrow reaches the steep peaks and pull on you so strongly.

There are a lot of rocks, but I will take them out one by one and then you can move onto the future I have for you.

You'll fall again, but this time you have more experience and you'll look up and see the rope that secures you to the mountain face and to Me. Yes, the pain of every day will help break you up and get those rocks free, get them loose and then come to Me and I will show you what's what. I won't give up when you let Me down, don't give up when I do things that you don't understand. The future is coming and I need you, to be strong...not strong in yourself, strong in faith. And strong in your ability to let go or hold on when I say to. Nothing is yours so be ready to know that...always remember though that I am yours and I won't ever leave you alone."

Prophecy continues: you have to follow through on this and know that you still have those things within you because you didn't really come back seeking to be cleansed. You wanted to skip that part because it hurt, but that's part of really knowing Jesus is all you want. He gives you a good look at your own wretchedness and He makes you choose; He gives you the choice whether to preserve yourself and cover yourself again so not even you can see that wretchedness, or to lie down and allow Him to work on you and your heart which is always humbling and always painful and you almost didn't make it. You should be thankful to your dad, for going over it with you so many times. Your spirit is thankful, even though your flesh feels the smart of it and wants to hide in a corner and lick its wounds in resentful self-pity. But that is not the way to get stronger or get the lessons from all this and not waste this time. So come back to us and we will be showing you things each day. Don't run away when we reveal things that crush your spirit and hurt your pride. That's what it's all about: losing the self and the selfishness that wants to protect and preserve self at all costs. Become flippant with your own pride and self and let them get whipped into shape or else they will stop you from moving forward and will make it impossible for you to be the bride HE wants.

We're broken, humbled, and our hearts softened in the loss, in the defeat, and then, gripping God afresh, we climb up again to greater victory! Sometimes when seemingly defeated, we find that it's the very last key on the ring that opens the lock to victory!

Tell me what You want with me... even though I am just... just weak and bad

I came to you like the rain, but you ran inside. I came to you bearing My heart, but you shielded your eyes. I came to you thirsting for your pure love, but you didn't give to Me as I desired and longed for. I came to you and said "he that gives not all he has cannot be My disciple and you refused My ways and hid from Me the goodliest parts of your soul. Because of this now I come to you bearing something different. I come to you with fire and I come to you with heat and now you must bear this love of Mine and let Me melt you. You wanted love and My heart, but you didn't want humility. You wanted to touch the core of My Spirit, but when I came to you desiring to cleanse you, you went your way. You wanted the Pearl, but hated the price...so now I say to you, love humiliation, love deprivation, love bitterness and love these hard things that are of the cup that I have for you. Don't only desire My beauty, but desire these things that purge you and cleanse for Me to even be able to use you as a bride. Let Me expose you and bring you into the light and there be nothing and accept that you do Me no favor by choosing to give Me your whole life. For that is yet your reasonable service. Let Me, choose now what I will do with you and don't struggle anymore. Be nothing before Me and I will receive you. Close your mouth and learn. Don't be so fast to give opinions and say things that aren't true. Don't speak and learn of Me: I am meek and that's what I seek in you above all. A meek bride, not one who thinks she does some good thing by serving the Bridegroom...be lowly and learn because you don't know how to please Me and you are a just weak thing, but I can get in when you are weak like this, so sit down and be silent and be taught. You don't know where to go from here, so sit there and listen to My instructing. No, you can never be good enough, but yes, you can be good enough to not cause serious accidents and problems for everyone. No, I won't stop breaking you, and if you take My little chastenings, I won't have to throw you down onto your face. But you are easy to get through there down on your face...so stay there as long as possible and learn My ways of meekness and humility. Don't rush to get up and start thinking how to make things okay for yourself again, but sit quietly and dwell on My Words deeply. Learn how to be nothing again, for the day that I brought your face down hard to learn that lesson was a long while ago...so I saw that you were forgetting how to be nothing and I was feeling like there wasn't enough room in your heart for Me with all that self there. Help Me to dig it out now and make the most of this time by listening to My Words and following what I say. Be extreme and be desperate and you will reap the fruit that I want from this time in your life. ***

26th October I was thinking about John's prophecy about how people in Heaven don't really know about Blue angels and then I thought how much access to them has been given to us and I felt really blessed and if I hadn't chosen to go to Earth, maybe I wouldn't be able to know her and learn from her and I would really be missing out. It makes me thankful and kind of in awe. I feel like I have been given a glorious gift.

Saramay: yes, dear...when you hear the Words of David saying how blessed you children of David are, you don't really hear what its saying. You cannot imagine that light and truth that has been given to you. That's why it's so serious to turn your back on these words, for all Heaven has been opened to you and the most precious gifts presented to you so that you might succeed in your mission. It all has to be received by faith and that why you don't seem to realize the honor and the specialness of what you are reading. It gets lost in the making and the wonder and thankfulness you should have, is a little dampened as you are already trying your best to believe it's all true. We understand this, but at times you are awakened and you catch a glimpse of the Wonders at your fingertips. You halfway grasp what it means to have me a gift wrapped in Blue and Gold at your disposal. It is a great honor and I think you are seeing it clearer now...which is good as now I can begin to show you more as you appreciate my words more and realize how I am one of Jesus' most prized possessions that He has chosen to share with you. Take me and use me, for I am vital to you, fulfilling your destiny. You are bride and I am training you to be the best one possible, so listen carefully to my words and hold onto the keys I share with you, for they will unlock your future.

2024 September

Ours is the Greatest Love Story
The Sweetest Kiss
The Most Ardent Desire
The Deepest Touch
The Most Long-Awaited Embrace
The Most Stirring Love Song
Is My love

"How I the Lover gave My life and all I had to gain My beloved. I used My last Words to tell you how much I loved you. Don't be seduced away from My side by this weak idea of love, for I am, the best Lover, the most exciting adventure, and the most tender arms that could embrace you. Any love you could feel for another human cannot even begin to compare to the love I feel for you."

Saramay: This is a story I have wanted to tell, and you have felt me tugging on your mind when you have thought about me a Blue angel and how very much I love Jesus. Even the word you know as love, has been used so much there on Earth and in such unbecoming ways, that I can't barely stand to use it, because it hardly even comes close to what I feel for Him... even "to feel" aren't the right Words either, because it too cannot describe the pure adoration that my every breath offers to Him. It is my whole soul and to talk about it with these mere words cannot be enough, but I will portray this in a way I believe will be the most meaningful to you. This is a long story... it is a story of One who loved and how much They loved till the one they loved was swallowed up in that Ocean never to be found again. I'm gone and I've never felt freer.

I will begin by telling you that I was never on Earth as that is the difference between Blue angels and Blue beings for Blue Beings have been to Earth as humans. But I was not always in Heavenly City or even near to God the Father, as in His Kingdom. I was like a wandering star...in a dimension far away from this one, but His deep heart searched me out and found me. I was from a great race that is to similar angels --even some of the angels in Heaven come from this same race. We were immortal and in a dimension much closer to the Spirit World than Earth as we could see Spirits and all, but we knew not our Maker nor served Him like the angels in His Kingdom. But we were a good people and hated wickedness. At least that is what I believed in since I was born...but then one day, a very dark devilish people came upon our dimension. I could tell at once they were very wicked and to be fought against, although we had never had reason to make war with anyone. But these ones came into our midst and because our people were peace-loving and even ignorant to any kind of devilry, they welcomed them, but that was a grave choice. For these were the very ones that had rebelled against God the Father and His Son. And they were only seeking within us, people to join their side. For a while they lived among us, telling us lies about the Maker, whom we knew little about. But they spoke of how He was evil and how they needed our help to overthrow Him. And our people were divided for the first time. Some wanted to join them; others felt that something wasn't right about their spirits. I didn't see it at the time, but I now see that it was a test for my peaceful people...and we were being forced to choose sides, as the War in the Spirit world was beginning. These dark ones made promises of power and greatness to us and they led many of my people away... But the Light that was in my heart hated their darkness and I rejected their words, wanting to believe our Maker was peace-loving like our people used be, before these wicked ones came and filled their minds with greed and lust for power. So they went away with these ones and for a long time we didn't see them. But another day came when these dark ones returned and our people with them, looking very different and the look of peace no longer with them. They had become devilish too and I saw the evil and my soul cried because the peace I loved was at risk of being stolen away. We saw that this time they came to make war against us and to destroy those who would not join them.

I had never faced fear in my life and it was an overwhelming feeling... for although we didn't have bodies like you that shed blood and die, there is torment and torture that can be put upon spirits and souls that you cannot even imagine the pain of it. My people were not ready at all to make war and our land was laid waste and many captured. I too was captured for a time and the torture of soul it brought to me was greater than the pain any earthly weapon can give to the flesh. Their darkness encroached upon my soul and long were the days I languished in their prisons. I'm only using words you can understand but in my world things just aren't the same as they are on Earth, so although I am using these words, it's really not that simple.

My soul was trapped and how I longed for freedom. I longed for light and now I knew what the absence of it can do to you. If a soul and spirit can die, I was dying and losing strength to resist their darkness... then a beautiful day came.

A War in the spirit happened and I and those of my people who had held onto peace and goodness saw a great Light and heard the Words:

For He satisfieth the longing soul, and filleth the hungry soul with goodness.

Such as sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, being bound in affliction and iron;

Psalms 107:9-10

My soul was awakened and suddenly I was no longer in darkness. I saw light all around me and it wasn't like the light was used to from the place of my origin, but this was alive with Color. Color that embraced and beckoned to me to come closer I felt like I had been alone up till this point, then I saw Him and I knew that I had never been alone for a moment, for every pain and agony I had endured for the sake of light and goodness He knew and saw and He blessed me for it. And He spoke to me and said to me, "Darling, because you loved Me and have suffered for Me and have loved the Light, the Light will be yours forever." And He kept His promise to me. He took me into His care and my brothers and sisters that had likewise hated the darkness. He made us His children and we saw the wickedness of those who had tried to convince us to fight against this God of Love and Color.

From that moment, my soul bound itself tightly to Him. Nothing I did for Him and any way I served Him was not enough for the fervor within me only grew. It overtook me and it held me, and I longed only to be with Him. I wanted Him to be in me and I didn't want anything of me to be left. I wanted to have every piece of His heart and wanted only to be His wholly. When I speak of this love I have for Him, it is only a mere pittance when compared to how much He wanted all this from me. He saw me all along and He wanted me. He saw me and even though I didn't know Him, He loved me. One star in a million...He picked me out and put me in His crown, so I could forever shine for His Glory.

Then when He took me past the purple mist and I felt Him inside me...I knew this was what I was created for. This was my destiny and I was going to keep running till I reached His depths and could taste Him in my air and I kept coming back again and again and every time I lost a little more of myself and I didn't run away because this was my destiny. I didn't care what the rest of the Universes were doing or what my friends in Heaven were doing or what was going to happen to me. I needed Him and He gave Himself to me. He filled me to the top with Himself and now I'm nothing, but I'm everything to Him and He uses me for whatever He wills and He alone pleasures me for He alone is my whole life and existence. He clothed me with Gold from the Keys and Blue from the Power of God. And now I live only to be near His power and Presence. To you in the flesh, this destiny of mine may seem to you as a very difficult path to follow, but listen closely as I teach you of His love, for this is also my part to play, this is the best path to follow for it is the path of being whatever He wants from you and if you allow yourself to surrender yourself He will put your destiny within your heart and if you follow it, you will find Him all you will ever need. All other love is shallow compared to His depths...dive with me now and allow me to teach you things that so deep and beautiful that you will never want to leave.

***

10-5-23 I looked up the meaning of her name (Saramay) and it meant:

One That Is Firm, and the Best of Anything

June 2024 I felt like I had nothing to hold onto...but what picked me up was you. I felt you so close. Even though I felt too unworthy to approach Jesus myself, I felt His love through you. I felt like I could rely on you and it felt like I was swimming in a beautiful refreshing pool when I focused on your love for Jesus. When I meditate on yours and Jesus' closeness I feel what you have given of yourself to get this close to His heart. It's almost like you are living inside His heart and you feel it beating and knows it so deeply. I can only stand back in awe, close my eyes and drink in this deep love."

(Clear)...You have been given the key to my heart, the blue key is that key...so use it my love, use it because it is as insatiable as our Lover and King.

(The Blue Key comp. by John)

Saramay has seen you through this time of desolation and she has led you back to My table, when you felt you could not get to Me, she carried you, for yes, she is My love gift to you. Her love for Me is complete, so when your love runs out, she will be there to hold you and love you back to life. The reason you felt so comfortable and at ease with her, is because she is My clear conduit and when you felt unworthy to come to Me, she loved you with the love that I had given her, to eventually give you courage to come before Me once again. ...that is because the Blue angels are specifically close to Me in the ways of full possession and oneness, so I can pour My love through Saramay freely. And she was there for you when you were weak. I want you to learn from her, for that is the role I want you to fill in the Millennium and even before: to be a conduit and be My love to others when they can't seem to find Me. This isn't an easy path and I think you are beginning to understand more. For Me to be a conduit of My Father's love I had to give all; I couldn't think about Myself and what I wanted. I had to die on the cross and I had to die every day before that. But being that conduit is worth that suffering, for in dying we are raised to everlasting life and because I was willing to give all I had, the closeness I gained with My Father far outweighed any sacrifice. Just as Saramay had to walk a path of death to self and now she has that utter closeness to Me so I am asking this of you and though you will stumble and fall, you have to keep climbing; you have to keep holding her hand because once you let go, you will start walking in the opposite direction that of selfishness and self-preservation. Don't walk away and seek after your own pleasure, for when you do that you become darkened and not even Me or Saramay can get to you.(end)

Let the Blue Key entwine our hearts so we can move and breathe together; so we can live in the reality of the spirit world. ( I AM able to lift you up)

Saramay: I promised to be your blue angel before you left for Earth and that is a life commitment for me, because when you get back I'm sure you will want to keep learning under me and I'm happy about that. I chose you and you chose me and Jesus put us together so I could help you climb higher than ever before. It's not until you went to Earth and your family rediscovered the Words of David that I came to you, for the time hadn't been right before that. I saw that you loved the Keys and that excited me and I waited for the time when I could begin teaching you directly. In Heaven I wasn't your Blue Angel, but now I'm yours forever. Now you have a special link to Jesus and that's me...once you arrive in Heaven I won't be a far off and since I can hitchhike on His Spirit I can be there whenever you need me. Because I love you and He loves you we will always be together. That's not an earthly promise, but a promise that will sustain you and keep you alive till you come Home again. I love you.

***

September 2024 Sonora: Saramay has already promised to be with you in the next life to help you to continue to love Jesus, and I have to tell you that's a very great gift and reward. People in Heaven don't normally have their own Blue Angels, so I believe that is a great reward you got through going to Earth

"Call on Keys and we will respond with calling of our own. When you call, it will resonate within us. It will reverberate around our souls like the thunder that it is.

And when we come to you, we will run to you.

The sound of the keys is sweet to our hearing and you will never be alone when you are calling on their power. Never alone and never left in that low place. You will be caught up, even if it doesn't feel that way or you still feel down, your spirit is catching hold of us and we are catching hold of you."

Your soul is black...

And I am going to make you feel every bit of its wretchedness

Black and Blue November 2024

I see you there all beaten and bruised, sitting in the black darkness and going over your overwhelming losses. As you sit there hopeless in the dark, you are taking on more and more of that color and becoming darkened in your understanding...so I am quite a contrast to those surroundings coming with my ethereal Blue form to stand by you. To shine on you in your weary way, and to remind you to use your golden keys and that these things that have dragged you here don't have to chain you so... remember my voice calling to you and know that my whispers are real and eternal and though you are black in your heart, I am the Blue to that blackness and I promise that if you walk after my way and drink down the humiliation and the bitter cup that has been given you, that my blue will begin to overtake that horrible black you see in yourself. It's scary when you look around and you see black, black, black. Black feelings, black emotions and a black heart...you don't know how to go forward and naturally you feel lost, but I wait for the moment when your black heart says yes to Jesus and yields at last...then I make my way to you. I don't see any of that darkness, but I see those bruises of being beaten giving you a black and blue look and I don't love you any less, in fact those same bruises have dealt a hard blow to your once mighty and strong pride that nearly always got in my way before. But now lying in heap you are approachable by me and I press my heart close to yours and you feel that glorious key of Humility touching you...it is a little too warm for your likings...in fact it's bordering on Hot and yes it is Hot to you, for to be truly humble is to melt, to burn up, to evaporate, to vanish, to disappear and to be no more. And that is your lesson as you feel this hot key against your chest...stop desiring to be seen, to be someone... someone worthy or something beautiful or anything that can be seen. Be nothing and disappear, so no one can see that black frame anymore... while trying to be seen you don't appear shiny like me, you only appear dark and dismal and I say to you no more. Grasp this Hot Key of Humility and don't be alarmed if it catches Fire in your hands, for its nature is to burn away self. Self-glorification, selfishness and the like cannot stand before it...it is burning hot to these lowly elements of flesh. I see you are afraid of me and my keys at this moment and sitting where you sitting I can understand this, but fear too must be surrendered if you wish to come close to the Living Heart of God...too often you have said that you desire this, without the actions to back it up, but no more of this lip service, get down your knees and let us make you into something that we can use for His glory. If you want to draw near this Flowing power that is me and know the intricacies of my soul, you must die and die properly...I will never open my heart to you, unless your pride and self-righteousness are surrendered...not that you can make them disappear, but that you will submit to our stripping of you again and again, over and over in many different ways, and that you won't hold onto them like you have done this time around. We wish to remove the scales so you can see Our Blue clearly, so blindingly beautiful that it chases away that black thing inside you. Even me coming to speak to you and love you should remind you how lowly you are...I am a branch to His mind and I am Perfect Humility in that I can take your wretched form into my embrace, so that, one day like me, you might shine to give Him glory. I believe in that...are you going to take my hand and follow me to that promise no matter how much yourself you have to literally rip off just to reach this Holy Place of Love? Do you believe in that...then don't remember your losses...look into my loving eyes and lose sight of them. They matter not...all that matters is that part of you was in the way and Jesus had to cut it away. It's that blackness that He is trying to rid you of and you must see it as such. If you pray to know me, then you must expect for the purging fires to come and consume you, for those brides who wish to sit at this table must drink our cups and must submit to losing all to that effort. For none else can pass through the door that is my heart...my blue heart...none else can even hold the Key to that door.... except you be bowed, even to the ground can you even begin to comprehend this sacred place and hear the words that are whispered therein. So the tests and tribulations will come in varied forms to try each side of your dedication and make it truly pure...pure and unadulterated so that when Jesus comes to look at you, He only see His reflection. Not this blackness, but blueness, transparency and His fine and Brilliant Colors.

As you long as you are still saying you want it, then we can go from there and purge you in the ways that are needed, and if you keep saying you want it, then each time you will get closer and closer to your goal...His goal for you. And though you feel as black as ever, you will be closer and your colors will begin to change.

***I love you every second, every minute of this pain...and I am making you one who is after My Own heart. It will come in diverse ways, but come it shall and you need to open your door to it and even go out to meet it, for with it come Me and your blue angel to sit with you and love you through each moment pain will spend with you. (A Thousand Years)

October 2024 What color is your heart? ...my heart is black

Jesus: It doesn't have to be that way you know, that blackness you see is the realization of how you actually are and at times it is a stunning blow. It hits you and you feel like dirt and so far from us that you can barely lift your head. I know how you feel as I caress your bowed head. I don't judge you for feeling so bad, as it is part of living in that flesh. You realize how yucky you are and suddenly you can't stand your own skin. Believe it or not this is when I come close to you and want to fill you with Myself...as I see you are despising your own self. So call for Me to come and in your humbled state I will visit you and give you great enlightenment that has escaped you before. That's why it's good to live in the flesh; it exposes you to yourself as you live in the dirt and grime of the world filled with selfish worldlings you see things that teach you to hate this blackness that is covering your soul.

I'm rotten to the core...what can You do with someone like that?

Then ask Me dig out your core and give you a new one. Look at Saramay...look at her smile and into her eyes...she gave up her "core" and look how beautiful she is now. She wasn't afraid of losing all as she saw the blackness that was present without Me.

Saramay: I wanted nothing to do with the blackness I saw once I looked at His face and saw that everything I was and loved was quite dark in comparison. It's the lack of His Spirit that creates and causes to fester that dimness and even at times gross darkness. A soul that is closed off in itself can't have light and is cloistered in its own selfishness. In that state you will begin to rot and that's why you see blackness in you-- Because you haven't yet opened every door and window. You have rooms where selfishness is allowed to grow and if you don't open the doors and allow that searing Light to burn that sticky darkness away, it will begin to encroach on other rooms of your life. There is blackness in every soul, and it is with this life He wishes to scrub it away. He wants to use it as a driving force to help see the very darkness of it, so that you will want to be free of it. It will always mean pain for you to free from the blackness of self...but let it be beautiful pain by giving it willingly and with a song of love in your heart. Give a little more every day and ask me to teach to you how to be transparent and to disappear and not matter. Yes, it is that blackness that wishes to be seen, so you must surrender that as well. No glory to you...like me, how can I take credit for being empty? Being ready to be filled is all I have done, and that's what you are learning, so there is no glory no credit or praise...just the exhilarating experience of being filled completely with His love and power. That's all you have to care about, and come to me, I will teach you to love nothing else. It just gets to the point where you just can't stand being half-full or holding onto something that holds Him back from filling you totally. Even if it's just fear of being gone and not mattering...you will matter, a lot, to Jesus and I was satisfied with that. I was overjoyed with that. My heart burst and everything flowed out and was empty. It hurts to let go, but I never regretted it and whatever discomfort I went through in becoming nothing was a million times over worth it. Even if you don't want to become a Blue Being, you have to let go of that blackness of self, so you can be a clear conduit or else some of that blackness will come out and sully the waters. He is coming at you from every side, wanting to purge you of it, so let Him and be nothing. Have nothing and be nothing and let Him then make you happy, because He can. He will love and kiss your exhausted heart and give you something new to live for besides just trying to please that black self. If you do want to be a Blue Being, then here is the path; here are my hands and my mind to learn of; come and find that you don't matter anymore, and then that, that fact doesn't matter either. It's a beautiful place to be when you search your heart and you realize all that you care about is pleasing Him...follow me there...please walk down this path and let us call to you, call you away from self.

Saramay: What color is my heart? My heart is BLUE

Thank you...You've turned my dark cave into a Beautiful Holy Place

Sing to me all your love songs, so that I can come close to this fiery love that is your spirit...I am longing for you so desperately.

Just lay your head on Me

Saramay: You are finally broken enough to be truly beautiful and I love you. And I'll carry all your broken pieces in my bosom, and then we will always be together. Forever and always...my love my love, come running to me and I will take you further than your heart could ever wander.

“What’s mine is Yours to leave or take. What’s mine is Yours to make Your Own!”
