

Stay Faithful to the Very End

I do not need mighty men at this point; I need faithful men. All I ask is that you remain faithful to the task that I have laid at your feet. Remind yourself of the contract, the marriage contract...Yes, that's right, the stipulations and requirements. What is your part again? Yes, to be faithful, to be loyal, to be willing to do anything He asks of you. It doesn't matter where or to what you've been called, all that matters is your faithfulness to your calling, your faithfulness to learn your lessons and then hand them on to those around you. I am not looking for success but faithfulness. I was faithful unto death. Even though the whole thing looked like a shambles and a failure, I remained faithful to My Father's will. He that is faithful in that which is least, will be faithful in much...You have been faithful all these years that is why you have been given such an important job in this last hour. If you remain obedient to My will and faithful to do as I say, then you will direct the course of history, and from there you will see the End come and My return.

Jesus: What is your purpose? Your purpose is to stay faithful to the very end. Your job is to be a nobody so that I can use you to be an anybody. Your purpose is the Words of David and the gift of prophecy I have given—My new Words of David. This is what you are called to, to be the next one to carry on the Flame. Just to be found faithful is no small thing because to keep enduring and to keep going when everything around you is not as the carnal mind would think it should be is a real feat of trusting in the Word and what it has told you; in trusting in the keys and believing how very powerful they are and what they will do for you and how the Word says they are the absolute power that it going to see you through this last hour. So be not weary in well doing nor faint in your minds. Don't be discouraged! Don't give up, but hold on! My Word shall be fulfilled and I will not fail. Although you may be impatient, and although you may want to accomplish more and be more used, you are being used of Me and accomplishing My will as you strive to be faithful and diligent in the calling that you have.

I have chosen the few faithful ones that continue to hold My Words of David in high esteem. I have given into their hands the victory. These ones I call My Gideon's band of the End. It is by faith that you call yourself the Warrior Band. And so it will remain; the prize goes to the faithful, those that live and breathe the Words of their King. The band is small because it is by choice, by faith. No one is required to believe. It is by faith that the Words are allowed entrance into the hearts of those that hear. It is by faith that the Words are allowed to germinate, grow, bud, flower and in turn bring forth fruit.

These days of the End are about My faithful ones, My remnant, those who will go on to rule in the Millennium. I will start the new day with those that have been faithful with My Word during the night before, those that fought on in spite of all Satan could do to quench My light. I don't look at your mistakes; I look for you, who, in spite of your mistakes and failures, get up again, and with faith in your hearts, keep climbing. Those in the next millennium, those who have been left wasted and without hope, will need people just like them to light the way, people who will be able to say, "If there is hope for us, then there is hope for you." Did I not come to earth to live the earth life in order to understand and have compassion on the multitude?

Guardian angel: The enemy will send everything he's got to get you down and to drag you away from your commission, and you may at times have to physically force yourself to just keep going—remembering the goal and the Words that He has spoken to you in your times of love, remembering that He promised and He will be faithful to His Word. You have to fill yourself up with these promises and have nothing else running through your mind or you simply won't have the courage to keep going each day.

Be encouraged that your struggles are not in vain, nor are they forever. Hold fast to the crown I have given you. Your time will come. Soon, if you remain faithful, you shall stand with Me atop Mt. Zion and shine My light proudly for all to see. Those that mocked shall be silenced, and those that turned away shall weep, but those that heard and obeyed shall rejoice. Endure now for but a little season, for then shall you rejoice for all eternity. I love you, My conquering warrior brides.

I cannot make this any easier; you know that. This is the life of faith, the test of faith. You must continue to believe even if you never see an angel or your wonderful spirit helpers; you still must believe they are there and are helping you. The understanding will come and with it the fullness of knowing you have accomplished what very few have ever accomplished in this life. The Words of David have been given to many, but as you now see, only a very few have held onto them through the testing and trials of the post-reboot years. Fight on, My bride, for we are here, and you must know that you would never have gotten this far without our help. No man alive could have passed through the years and trials and tests My true brides have passed through without supernatural help. So keep that knowledge close to your heart and run on dauntlessly.

This race will not go to the strongest or the smartest or the best practiced. It will go to the faithful. To the faithful goes the prize and that prize is Me coming into them fully right at the exact time in history when they have nothing left. To those that have hung on and reached this point in the race, it has been promised many times over that I will mightily use them. They will be My witnesses unto this world and unto the wicked rulers that have forced themselves on the people of this world. All I ask is that you believe, and I know it is not easy after having been tested over and over and over again and then asked to just trust that the big miracles are right around the corner. You know this is not an unusual thing that I ask of you, My Father asked the same from Me. My last test didn't come in the Garden of Gethsemane. Although that was a very difficult test and the Devil was allowed to try Me terribly almost at the last hour, I still went on from there to face My trial and punishment. It was very hard to continue all the way to the last sip of vinegar, but I did. Now I know all things; as you will come to know them ...if you hold on and pass the finish line of My will for your life.

Wouldn't it just be so easy to give in? Of course it would, because this life of discipleship is a hard road and not many can walk it to its end. It's so much easier to live for what you can see and what can immediately gratify you. But the life of faith is different. It's hard. But the rewards of faith are so great, so vast and long lasting. They go on into eternity, while the flesh and all its immediate comforts fade away by the passing of the hour. Right now our voice is strong and you know that you must never leave this road of faith. But as the day wears on, our voice fades as the flesh takes over and demands attention. Walk on by faith, because we're here in the trials and temptations. Set your face as a flint, steel your nerves, and determine, simply determine, that you will not surrender no matter how you feel. This is what it's like to die daily, to be a martyr for the Lord every day. Do not accept the System's deliverance, that you might obtain a better resurrection. Hold on to the promise, the one which says that you shall receive a crown at the end of all this for your faithfulness. Even when it all seems so useless and pointless and fruitless and slow—hold on to your crown.

Look at my beloved first apostles. Did they go part way and then quit, and surrender to the evil that was ravaging the faith of people? No. They had seen and known that I finished My course and did not give up, and they were determined to finish for Me, as I had done for them; no matter how their personal game of life ended. Will you do that for Me? I did it for you. I need you to be like Me on this Earth, giving your life to proclaim liberty and preach the message of the Gospel. If you are faithful to the end, whatever your end ends up being, then you are helping to bring in the harvest of souls. I need you there, to hold a place, a space so that through you My spirit can move and work and live and breathe, in a living soul. It's going to mean death to your own ideas of what your life ought to look like. It's going to take new bends and twists and turns, and go all kinds of places all over the game board. But if you aren't willing to move in all the places that I need to move you, My little piece, the little piece of Me that you are on Earth, then chances are you'll get knocked off the game board before your time.

So be faithful. Be diligent. Be yielded. But above all, be loving, and great will be your reward when you get Here. Great will be your reward. I'll say it again, great will be your reward! I adore your steadfastness despite so little to show. I just need your love after all and your faithfulness to stick to Me and My instructions to you no matter what. Let nothing deter you or pull you off the wall. Make Me proud of you. There is nothing I want more than to be able to say to you, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant. Enter into My joy. I love you baby! That's why I give you all this instruction and guidance, because I really, really want you to make it. I really want you to be happy when you reach Heaven. I want you to regret as little as possible. So please, please keep fighting and keep being faithful even when it's hard and you can't seem to do what's right. I want you to get excited that there are some really big and awesome surprises waiting for the faithful ones and for those who encourage others to be faithful as well. I'm coming, and I'm coming to save you! So please hold on. Imagine that day My love, just imagine it! Your soul is pleading with Me to come and save you. My love, My love, My love! I promise on My honor, that if you do everything I have asked of you, if you be My faithful virgin bride, if you fulfill the calling and destiny I have given you, I will, I will, I will, I WILL, Return. Behold I come quickly with My reward in My hand, the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand, hold that fast which thou hast, be faithful My little ones, be faithful through this time of darkness and the crown will be yours.
