

CASTING LINES TO SPIRITS OF THE LIVES

Submitted by Chris

Hi MB, I pray everyone is doing well there. I thought to share something interesting I just received from the Lord. I was standing at my kitchen counter with my Bible open, doing memory work from the Gospel of John, and my phone was on the countertop next to my Bible. I inadvertently glanced at it while reviewing some verses in my mind, and suddenly I started getting something in prophecy from Jesus, so I ran to my laptop—and here's what came:

Jesus speaking: The cell phone is a tool the enemy uses to bring back memories from past lives, from civilizations of old that held secret ceremonies in private places and sought to pollute the minds and hearts of mankind from a young age. This is a devious device whose real use has been hidden from the masses, but that I reveal at this hour to you, My remnant, that you may know the truth behind this white magic tool. It has been used in full force for many purposes, yet it also has hidden spiritual uses that the enemy and his elites, in private places, had conjured up before Steve Jobs even thought of the idea to promote it.

How does this work, you may wonder? Well, it carries signals that reach into space, and the enemy controls the airwaves—those molecules that divide the atmosphere. In his little machine of make-believe, using stolen frequencies, he uses those airwaves to bring evil thoughts into the minds of men through that tool, which is also used as the mark of the beast.

This is a new revelation that I reveal now so that your prayers can target those molecules in the airwaves and put a stop to this evil force the enemy has been using. You may wonder why certain people in the world, or certain groups of people, have suddenly been given great wisdom or had ideas placed into their minds and hearts without knowing anything about it.

Well, that frequency from past lives is conjured in their minds from the cell phone sitting in their pocket or lying next to them, without them realizing the spiritual force fields that have taken control of their thoughts by means of that tool. It is a simple 'magic potion' of Egyptian energy, conjured in the hearts of wicked elites who control the 'magic' of new technology, even now promoting its use as simple 'joy rides' that people have grown accustomed to, without realizing it is polluting their souls into damnation.

It takes on a life of its own.

"This cell thing, this 'wonder' of technology, may look to most like a simple tool. In fact, it is a spiritual energy vehicle that transmits all manner of demonic activity across the airwaves and pollutes those who use it—except those of you who stay desperate and in tune, who wash your minds daily in My voice, and who seek only to use what man has made for My glory.

It will be thrown into the dustbin as soon as I return, and its use in promoting evil imaginations will be exposed. The kings of the earth, who set themselves up as rulers in past lives, will be held accountable as well for their part in promoting this garbage in their secret chambers while many slept and took in the pill.

I expose the tools of the enemy and bring light to his agenda so that you can demolish his power with greater force and take on even greater mind power, knowing My thoughts and how I reveal the enemy's plans to you, My warrior brides of the end.

(after about 15 minutes)

Jesus speaking: As you thought about this, a little while after I gave you the original message, you wondered if cars play a part in transmitting this energy—and yes, they do. They hold the speed dial of this frequency as they race through the streets and cause destruction, even if no accidents occur. Cars are interlinked with phones, aren't they? So this energy flows easily in the vehicles man has put together with his limited knowledge of frequency.

This is why people suddenly feel different after coming home from a short trip to the store. Suddenly their mood has shifted, and their mind is on another topic. Their phone was sitting on their lap or perhaps on the console of the vehicle, and they were just driving, minding nothing at all except the road to make sure they drove safely, and suddenly their mood and spirit took on a different attitude.

This is attributed to that cell phone, which carried that vibe from those past spirits, now infiltrating seemingly innocuous moments of daily life.

This is the image of the beast in full force. This is how demons work in private. This is the airwaves of great confusion settling in while no one notices it. This is the barrier people can't get past because they are used to the comfort and convenience of such a thing that makes life so easy.

Now you know how the beast has carried his airwaves into the minds of people while communing in private with past entities, making sure the spirits are active and controlling as much as they can on earth. Anywhere that Wi-Fi is, there is a spirit controlling the airwaves that permeate and influence thoughts to some extent, making people subservient to the will of their lord and master.

They wouldn't call him lord if he appeared as the dragon he is, but that is disguised in this device, full of his thoughts and energy, allowed to break into those who don't discern this tool for its true purpose. And why would he allow this to be used to bring fun and joy to so many while hiding its real agenda? To control and deceive, and to prepare them for eventual takeover if I don't come and put a stop to it—which I will.

So, your prayers play a role in switching this evil device to a new frequency that is built on love, and I will come and put an end to this circle of destruction the enemy started way back in previous eras. I'll reveal another secret to you now.

When Elon Musk uses his Starlink company to "connect" people to the web, it is nothing more than demonic activity being spread to promote the false messiah, with those rituals performed in secret casting a spell on all who use their phones to connect to his Wi-Fi. When he promotes it to help those in war-torn lands, he is secretly using it to connect the minds and hearts of those who need help to a false god, so that their souls are darkened and thus unable to be soft and malleable for My light to enter with truth that would turn their situation around.

Elon is a henchman for the Beast, masked as a brilliant man with an above-average IQ, using his technology to further the agenda of a one-world government. Let no man deceive those who would know the truth. This world is dark, and its light is a false one.

Your eye is single because it is My light in you, while the rest dwell in darkness. Light up the world in prayer. Man has reached his limit of how long he can go without Me. His end is upon him. (end)
