

(Clear) Don't forget the latest counsel... everyone must move into the spirit now. The time of darkness is upon the world. (DEC 24, 2023 Skilled Military Strategists)

You need to pray, as King David did, for the Lord to open your spiritual eyes to give you a greater understanding of the truth in God's Word. "Open my eyes, that I may see wondrous things from Your law. (June 08_The Mysteries of the Kingdom)

Numbers 14:24 But because my servant Caleb has a different spirit and follows me wholeheartedly...

(Jesus) You, My dearest brides, are in My boat and we are about to pass into a deeper spiritual reality, and I am instructing you on how to prepare our boat.

You must have implicit trust in My still small voice. You must have implicit trust in your Blue Angels and those that stand by your side day and night. Do not trust the voice of man, for his voice is as a short wave radio channel, very hard to keep tuned to.

If you have been listening carefully, you know that you are about to move into a reality that requires absolute trust and faith in what you hear from behind the veil. (DEC 25, 2023 Searching Worldly Internet Sites)

30th January, 2024 AM. Azure) This is a time like no other. You are going on the unseen! Yes, you can't see so much what we are all talking about. Except the miracles, like yesterdays! But other than that you are living in another world. If you had to explain yourself to an earthy worldly human they would think you are quite crazy and they would snicker and laugh at you. Like they did at Noah...and Jeremiah... Hosea...Jesus...but not just laugh but get angry and want to disappear you for your irritating exposure of their fake flatlander 2D facade of a useless life! Well, you are in good company and so much the better so. They live in an upside down world. They live without colors! And well, they will just have to wait and see. You are living now in the deep waters far away from the shore and you don't have need to have anything to do with such ones. It's time to leave such a life behind and live with us in the spirit. There are so many secrets for you to learn of. So much about you needs to change to be who you are meant to be. Different! More like us! And you can be if you want. Let the Blue Key entwine our hearts so we can move and breathe together; so we can live in the reality of the spirit world. "Gird up the loins of your mind beloved, leave carnal and the enemy on the shoreline and break loose with us into the realm of the spirit forever; here's a fact for you...it is altogether possible to leave old carnal forever. "To the carnal mind this is impossible; but with God all things are possible." (OH WRETCHED MAN THAT I AM) (FEB 26, 2024 The Unseen State WALKING WITH THE EYES OF THE SPIRIT MB blog pages)

...this is all about walking in the spirit, fighting in the spirit and climbing in the spirit to the top of the mountain of the Lord. Your flesh is not going anywhere, only your spirit can travel where we are going.

If your flesh is given respite, it doesn't grow the spirit, it only satisfies the flesh for a brief period, and then the battles continue again. (June 09_ That Fat Pig Obstacon)

"I will repeat what Jesus said to you back in November last year: "This year is a special year of dispensation for My brides who have gone the extra mile for Me, those who have come through the reboot years as members of My Gideon's band of Endtime prophets. I am lifting many spiritual restrictions in order that you be given an opportunity to make the progress required to be ready for 2025. Please My lovers use this very special time wisely, for it will only come this way once."

Come on Warrior Band here is another steep incline for you to climb. You are still in the City, there are still a few months of learning and honing to be done, you aren't ready for 2025 yet. Let's work some more on your hearts, and thankfulness and those carnal minds that are struggling to see the miraculous in everything. Prophecy is another phenomenon that the carnal mind just can't get its tentacles around. Let go of your disbelief and put on the spiritual mind of Jesus and dive in and swim out to where we are and leave the carnal shores of man's knowledge and reason behind forever. We need prophets on ground now, or no later than 2025. This is the time to practice, this is the school of the prophets, and this class on praise and thankfulness and looking deeper into the spirit has in so many ways practical application. Look at each day, each event, each problem with the eyes of the spirit and you will begin to not only see the golden thread but you will

Your decision to look past it all, to look up to Me in faith, makes our connection strong. Even if you don't feel the faith, your obedience to do so is a step of faith or a statement of faith, and then I am able to lift you up, to join your spirit with Mine so that you see things as I see them, feel things as I feel them, and in a greater way have My heart and My Spirit within you. This instantly gives you greater faith, greater anointing, a much broader perspective, and the peace and trust that you need. That is the process of rising above.

You see, it's all free choice. Some of you see that love. You sense Me and you want it more than anything. You want the pearl of great price. But others allow themselves to be distracted and they just go on. I allow it. I don't force Myself on anyone. (MB.)(To My Dear Warrior Band Part 1)

THE WAR BEHIND THE VEIL

Prophecy received May 31, 2024...this physical world is distracting us from the real war

As I said yesterday, the warfare that is being waged in the spiritual realm is the reality.

You are a specially called out group of warriors that not just take things by faith but who are really taking it by faith, let's face it, the way I'm asking you to fight now takes a lot faith. I've pretty much asked you to stop all physical missionary activity and come across the veil with Me and the other Warrior Generals of the spiritual realm, and that includes one of the greatest earthly generals of all time, your father David; and together with many of your former colleagues who are now passed over from that life to this, we are fighting this war the way it was always intended to fight. To rally a group of believers and get them to totally shun the ways of the world and the system church and believe solely on what they are hearing from the spiritual realm, and to act on it, all in faith, is an earth shattering event. To get you to stop looking for the signs and wonders in the physical realm and instead look for them in the spiritual realm through the window of the written and living Word is the greatest miracle this world has never seen. And why won't they see it? They won't see it because it is all by faith. The biggest miracles are happening in the spiritual realm and only a very few people on earth are seeing them, because the majority are not looking at this Endtime with the eyes of the spirit but with the eyes of carnal minded man. The majority of the world won't know what hit them when I burst through the veil, the barrier between these worlds, because they weren't looking in the right direction. (End)

Take a look at your armor. Your armor is your obedience. If My Word tells you to do so and so and you do it then you give your armor and those around you (your armor bearers) more power to protect you from the fiery darts of the wicked.

I am stronger than all the forces of the enemy put together, but it all hinges on a small pin; you, and on an important spiritual force that keeps that pin in place, obedience.

Obedience to My will is what has kept you safe all these years, and your obedience to My will through the voice of My Word will continue to do so even unto the time of the End.

The Word is the great teacher; it is also the great examiner. It is more about being a doer of My Word than understanding My Word. Being motivated out of love for My Word than looking for some immediate or long term result; obeying for the Words sake and no other reason.

Your faithfulness to obey is what will win the war. It's getting up day after day and being willing to fight another day, another battle that will see you through to the end. That's why I said "Be thou faithful unto death and I will give you a crown of life."

You must hold tightly to the Key of obedience, and I must see and know that ultimately that is exactly what you will do. Then it will be My decision to give you more understanding to all the reasons why, or at least some of them. I will slowly but surely reveal secrets to you, deeper magic of the higher reality of the spirit world. When you let go of these physical weights, you will be taken higher into the spirit. There you will be freer, freer to understand and thus be used more of Me. And this is what I am doing with you, My beautiful brides. My eyes are on you as you seek Me and find Me out. You will be known as the Key wielders, remember? Can you imagine that through your obedience you have access to the key of Heaven that has all the power you need?

I have made a way for you, My darlings. Of course I have, and why would I not? I love you, you My creation, why would I make you to suffer with no way of escape. You just need to follow the order! Choose Me; choose My way, and I will open the doors that need opening for you. I will take you out of the void you find yourself in right now, out of your darkness and bring you into the warmth and beauty of My light. Ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost has come upon you, and ye shall be witnesses unto Me. My dove is gentle and is easily shooed away if you try to strive yourselves and stamp your foot and fight against Me. You will not have the strength, My darlings. So bring Me all your 'treasures'; lovingly and willingly lay them at My feet and humble yourselves under My mighty hand. And I will make you as the stars forever and ever, and I will endow you with understanding and wisdom and give you My Keyes to see, as a reward for your sacrifices of obedience, My beautiful Brides. I love you so very much.

(Obedience Out of Love and Trust comp.by John)

The great fall is imminent, you must hold on, you must fight on in belief and trust that you have been chosen for this time. Don't allow Satan to win through like he won through and finally broke the lines of My Family in the days immediately before the reboot. I know it is difficult to comprehend all that I've said to My Family before you and to you over the last nine years since 2016. But the situation you are in is no different than the position Noah was in immediately before the flood came and took them all away. Well, My loves, the days of Noah are before you again; the Reboot had its desired effect and now it is time to hold on these last few years and be those victors that fulfill the promises in the Bible and the Words of David. Please believe Me when I tell you that the whole universe waits with baited breathe, My whole creation groans in anticipation for My return, you are the cogs that must fulfill your duty, you hold the Keys in your hand, you hold the history of the world in your hands. This is the heritage of the Children of David of the End. All that is required now is for you to believe and step out by faith and I promise you, we here, your comrades across the spiritual veil will do the rest. (June 07_Faith for the Future)

The spiritual reality requires faith to believe, but if you are finding it difficult to see or believe or push harder, use the Keys more fervently, shun the world more forcibly, humbly fall on your knees before Jesus and ask, plead with Him to open your eyes that you may see.

(MAY 5, 2024 Ripping Off The Blanket MB blog pages)

30th may, 2024 Changes are just hard no matter how seasoned a pilgrim you are. The noose is tightening on the world so the spirit warfare is more a hazard than before and you are seeing that the attacks are more often now; for you personally and for you all overall! You can't afford to let your guard down anymore. You will pay with consequences when you aren't totally realizing you are out on a foray, whether you are out on the field or right here in your own home and you need to thwart any attempts of attack by the enemy.

JAN 26, 2024 Get Off the Intravenous Drip

CALL ON THE KEYS TO OPEN YOUR MIND'S EYE TO SEE THE PORTAL UPWARD INTO GOD'S REALITY

Dream: I had a dream that my cell phone was playing a Walt Disney trailer of a really demonic children's movie... I tried to turn the movie off, but it wouldn't go off. I tried to shut the phone off and I couldn't. It wouldn't shut down. These cell phones are nothing but a tool of the Devil. I'm convinced the enemy has chosen this as his Mark of the Beast delivery vehicle. It is like an intravenous drip dispenser of demonic spiritual plasma. It's the counterfeit of the blue plasma stream coming from the Generators of God. The patient holds it in his or her right hand and is being continually drip fed as they go about their life in the world. They are like those people that have a fluid bag attached to their body which discharges nutrients into their bloodstream, except they don't need to be in a hospital bed but are free to get on with their life. However, in this case it's not nutrients but spiritual poison that numbs and eventually destroys the mind and spirit of its recipient. These worshipers don't need to go to a cinema or a church to get their spiritual fix. They simply carry their little demon idol around with them all day long and in many cases, into the night, until they drop off to sleep in a drug-induced dream world. There is no need for a microchip under the skin when the whole world is already holding the image of the beast in their right hand soaking up 666 frequency waves all the day long.

(Prophecy) There is an illusion that is continually pumped through these worm holes into the duplicated surface world. It is a type of gas that numbs the mind and blinds the eyes of man (Feelings and emotions!) to Satan's façade. Man simply cannot see behind the veil, behind the curtain backstage. Like a movie, he only sees what Satan's system has created for him. "It's the invention of Satan, tailor-made for those who would believe his lies rather than standing on the power of God's Word. It is created by the father of lies. Its purpose is to imprison. It is a deadly poison that enslaves and traps and binds. There is no freedom for those who believe in this made-up world. There is no power, no light, no life, no liberty. Once you are trapped in its grip, you go down, down, down. It comes from the depths of Hell."

Clear speaking: So everyone, that's what's happening on Earth. You can imagine what it's going to take to wake up those zombies—nothing short of a miracle and a big one at that. Are you ready to be those miracle workers? I know it's going to take a lot of faith... certainly more than you have now. But that is why you are with us in the City right now. Are you getting into the spirit? Are you leaving those earthy thoughts, memories and habits behind? Well, I hope so because we are moving on and it is going to become pretty much impossible for the carnal mind to follow some of the classes we're going to give you this year. Forget trying to analyze the ingredients; these are not chemistry classes we're about to give you. As we've said before, toss that carnal mind down the chute and move on through that doorway over there and into the spirit with us. Call on the Keys to open your mind's eye. Call on the Keys to open a portal upward into the world of God's reality. Use the Keys to close the doors to the underworld and the deceptions and facades of Satan. Knock and it shall be open unto you, seek and ye shall find, pray and you will believe. Walk through the portal that the Keys open for you and begin living the truth that has eluded you for these many years. Once the scales have been removed, launch into action. The war has reached its climax!

Prophecy: (Clear) The next step is going to take a little effort, a little calling on the Keys. The flesh doesn't want to go. The mind does, the spirit does and your heart does. We have seen the future; those pages are open to us. The next page is difficult for you. I have already explained to you the first steps that need to be taken if you are to make it up these stairs. The stairs wind their way through a mist. That is the mist you read about, which separates the library from the powerhouse itself. If you wish to have full access to the powerhouse, then you must pass through the mist. (Going behind the Son pdf)

(Azure) Do you see what Clear is saying here? We are giving you instructions to make it up the stairs to pass through the mist, that purple mist that separates the Library from the Powerhouse itself. You are being given access, a higher access code, to utilize the plasma stream from the Generator itself!! You are being authorized to pass through the purple mist!! We are leading you into the Kingdom of the spirit! The mist will transport you. To reach the higher frequency of the purple you must stay on the frequency of blue. You can only go through the purple if you are in the blue! You must saturate yourselves in 6.66! (End)

Clear speaking: Do you understand what is being said here? It says you have been given a higher access code to utilize the plasma stream from the Generator itself! Now stop and let the spirit speak to you about that phrase...What is it telling you? Azure is saying that you have your own access channel to the plasma stream. You can access the stream yourself. You don't need us to do it for you. You are being trusted to access the plasma yourself. We are with you of course. Our job has shifted to overseeing you as you use the plasma stream yourself. Now you are in the driver's seat. We are right beside you in the instructors seat, so don't worry, no one's going to be burnt.. yet. To get you in the groove here is a verse to meditate on. "And if any man will hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies: and if any man will hurt them, he must in this manner be killed." Revelation 11:5

If you are still in the disembarkation bay, please dump your stuff and let's get moving, because the other students are getting into some pretty heavy stuff. There's not much time to learn what you need to learn. Right now you may be able to peek through the door and see what's happening in the training center, but very soon we are going to move to another room, and there will only be access to those who've graduated from beginner's class. (Moving higher into the spirit realm!)

Jamal and I strolled over to the Creation Building and went in, and a different kind of thrill filled me. Each building looked the same on the outside, but was unique inside. Zaapha's class seemed to be happening on the ground level. A lot of people were busily moving about, involved in what seemed to be various arts and crafts activities. A small girl ran by me carrying what appeared to be a bouquet of flowers made from beautiful crystals. She ran to a lovely woman by the entrance, "See, Mommy? See what I made for you!"

Did I hear her right? Could that marvelous creation in her hands possibly be the work of a child? This was an interesting class indeed. Zaapha was over at a table-like surface across the room, putting the finishing touches on some creation of her own. As we approached, I heard her tell a young man standing near her, "There, I think I've got it." The bright-looking young man wearing a light blue tunic with a small red band around his forehead smiled and nodded approvingly, "You certainly have done an excellent job today, Zaapha."

"God really helped me," she replied.

Standing on the table in front of Zaapha was a beautiful living flower embedded inside a large, rose-colored crystal. It appeared as though you could somehow almost reach right in and touch the flower, but your fingers were stopped by the surface of the crystal. The whole work of art seemed mystical and miraculous. The flower looked very much alive and growing within the crystal.

"But how did the flower get in there?" I asked. "It looks like a real flower, but it's inside this crystal rock. How did you do that?"

Zaapha looked a little stumped, not knowing quite where to begin or how to attempt to explain this to me. I guess it was like asking a great mathematician or scientist how he did something, without even knowing enough about the subject to begin to understand the answer.

"Well," Zaapha said, "it involves a lot of things, like prayer and faith and visions, applied to spiritual physics, gemology, and botany, combined to produce a work of art."

"And the joy of the Lord," the young man added.

Zaapha jumped up, "You can have it," she said, and handed me this priceless treasure. "Put it in your room."

"Thank you so very much!" I said, taking the gift in shocked surprise. I gazed into the exquisite work of art for a moment. If they made creations like this in the kindergarten classes—for most of those in the class appeared to be very, very young—what unimaginable wonders were they capable of at the more advanced levels? I could think of no limits to possibility in this land where the Spirit of God was everywhere, alive and guiding and teaching and loving His children. (Journey to Tricon)

Clear continues: I trust those few lines from Journey to Tricon puts you right in the driver's seat. So instead of learning how to create a rose, you are about to learn how to channel the plasma stream to destroy the enemy.

6. The plasma stream begins from a cone-shaped base in the floor, which is concave and sweeps down from the enclosing wall to this cone. The cone doesn't have a top. The plasma shoots straight up in a gentle flow. As I follow it, I see that it's supporting something—another cone-shaped object, made of the same material as the base wall and also blue in color. Around the cone/ring are women's faces and upper torsos with their hands outstretched as if bearing this object on their backs. Their heads are free and move from side to side, and all focus on me as I stare at them.
7. I get the feeling that they're the defenders or something, because their stare is ominous and daunting and very powerful. They aren't evil, but looking at their faces definitely tells me that were an intruder to attempt to disrupt this flow, he or she would be met with a most deadly fate.

8. As I'm watching this scene, suddenly it's as if someone turns on the power real strong, and the gentle plasma stream explodes and bursts upward through the ring with the women's faces on it. They throw their heads back as the energy passes through the center of this ring, and their hands are thrust out further to the sides. It's like the energy is passing through them as well.
9. The whole thing is very powerful and strong and is very carefully guarded. I imagine that the gatekeepers at the base of the stream are very powerful, and with their collective protection, nothing would be able to get through to disturb the flow. And that's not accounting for the figures on the rings at each level that are not to be messed with either. They'd probably just channel some of that energy your way, and I could see that being the last time you made such an incursion!

(Clear) By taking all that we've shown you to date by faith, you get faith's reward, which is to continue to take what is coming by faith, which also means you get to go deeper into the spirit world with us, which again means you get to see things before they happen in the physical realm. That is the prophet's reward. Those that still linger in the land of unheeding ears will see with their eyes what they couldn't take by faith. And again, if one is seeing those things that the world sees, then that person must be somewhat or fully in the world's lane. This is the sum of the choices you have made. Others will also face the sum of the choices they have made. (JAN 4, 2024 Dear Blue Angel...Where to Now?)

(Clear) Don't forget the latest counsel... everyone must move into the spirit now. The time of darkness is upon the world. (DEC 24, 2023 Skilled Military Strategists)

(Jesus) I ask you to advance to the next level of commitment and dedication. No longer allow yourself to stay at a certain level of faith and commitment, but move forward with the swiftness these keys can empower you with. The time has come to move rapidly and to progress faster than ever. (A new Motherboard with faster RAM) You cannot stand still any longer, for the world beneath your feet has become a sinking-sand cesspool. It's imperative that you shed the weights that would keep you from rising above. (Empty out your duffel bag) There is no need to walk in the depths, the quagmire, the fog and illusion of the lower dimensions. (The illusion that numbs the mind and blinds the eyes of man) It is My wish, and completely possible, for you to walk with Me above the things of Earth and to live with Me in My dimension. If you feel stuck or anchored to a murky place, soar once again into the heights of Heaven by shedding the weights and burdens of Earth. Give up any burden keeping you down. Give that burden to Me and I will give you wings to soar! You, My wonderful servants who so faithfully devote your energy, time, effort, and love to Me and My cause, I honor and commend. Yours is a momentous task, but I have now given you the keys that will unlock every door, and no recourse for help will be withheld from you.

You're now breaking through the final levels of illusion and darkness. (What the Future Holds Part 1)

(Blue Angel) Come... deeper into the Pavilions of the Power of God! Stand no longer in the outer court, come deeper. Take my hand and come... Do you know what the purple cloud is for? It is a transporter of the Spirit Realm. (From "The Bride and the Blue Angel" comp.)

If you are finding this new meat hard to take, then call on the Keys. The giving of the Keys was a very practical step. Keys open things, right? They will—if you believe—open a way for you. (NOV 25, 2023 Lifting the Curse of 666)

FEB 15, 2024 Oh Wretched Man That I Am

...HOW THE CARNAL MIND KEEPS YOU FROM REACHING YOUR DESTINY

24th January, 2024 Azure Blue angel: The carnal mind is your enemy! It tears down all that is truly real and of our world! The carnal is what the Earth realm is run on. Our world is all about the workings of Jesus; running on the power of your eye being focused on Him alone with no other input! Just Him! He is the Light of the world! He shines and enlightens! Only Him! He could have easily created a spirit being that loves Him, but His desire is to have people who will, of their own choice, choose to love Him, denying themselves and all their wants and desires just to have Him. They want Him so much that it really isn't even a choice anymore. Even though there might still be pain for the forsaking, for the sacrifice, they count it as part of the price they need to pay and do it willingly. This life is as chaff! This is the requirement to make top-quality, vibrant seeds for the Millennium, for planting. They get the Blue Ribbon because they chose the frequency of Blue so they naturally get first place!

25th January, 2024 The carnal mind is like a selfish, spoilt child, always wanting first place, always wanting attention, just totally consumed with itself and will go to such inordinate lengths to get what it wants. It's an unruly spirit. It's an untrained puppy, which is all over the place disturbing everyone until it's learned its place, which is outside!! The only difference between a puppy and the carnal mind is that the carnal mind isn't cute!

26th January, 2024 Azure Blue angel: Whilst reading the Word, you must look for the hints and clues (or keys) on going deeper into the spirit world. They are there if you are looking for them. You'll see them, and they will be like a door to open the way and make the path clearer –maybe just a sentence or a word that stands out to you and piques your interest! Yes, you have to work at it. You have to want it. You need to desire it. Then the spirit will lead and guide you to what you need or want to know. You can then ask us questions to find out more, and slowly but surely, as you suck, more will be given. We like to see you hunger and thirst for the deep things. A good student will be motivated to seek more than what the teacher lectures in class. That is just the springboard to diving into the depths, to seeking more detail and doing your homework and extra research. A diligent, motivated student will do that without being told. You are so interested that it's a delight to know more of the ins and outs. That research will be, of course, asking us in prophecy or studying the Word. It's very beneficial to go back to the classes on the topic you are studying as they are full of meat. They will strengthen you and teach you to put off the carnal mind. They will help you to see things the way Jesus does and cement it in your heart. That takes work; that takes study; that takes motivation!

Faith is the next step; faith takes that idea or revelation further and creates something out of it. (JAN 15, 2024 Start Using Your Full Potential)

27th January, 2024 Jesus, thank You so much for Your sweetness today! We really didn't know what You would do even after we made our request known –of wanting 2 years on our visa. All glory to You and the power of prayer. We just obeyed, and it's paid off, the needed funds are coming in. We are so glad we did. We put it into Your hands and relied on prayer to come through for us. And it did! It has really increased our faith yet again. You never fail!

(Jesus) And you must all continue to trust and have strong faith. I will give you the keys of greater faith, but you have to play your part and believe! Speak positively –as if it is done. I wanted to encourage you that I am here watching you and I see your need. It's a test though, each time, whether you will become anxious and doubting or not. Yes, as Stephen said, you have to work it; your faith that is. You have to fight to block out the carnal mind and reasoning and simply not allow it entrance. Stay up on that high shelf of strong belief. That also takes motivation! Do you desire to have greater faith? Then put it to the test! Dare to try Me. Asking Me for the two years was an exercise in greater faith because it required a lot more money than you had, which seemed far off. But honestly, My ways are not your ways as I have proven once again and My answer can come in any variety of forms.. And for fun I throw a spin on the situation and give you all a pleasant surprise, because I love you so, My sweet, dear, enduring brides. Be encouraged and keep working those faith muscles and also blocking the carnal mindset of cant-be-done. That carnal mind is the enemy of faith. It is so far removed it's laughable! As you come into *My City, the Light is shed on you more and more, and as it is, you will be filled with more of the frequency wave of 6.66. This is why you must motivate yourselves because the perks are so darn good. I want to see you stretch. I love to see you stretch for those Keys on that higher shelf. I love to see you make the effort. I wait and watch. If you won't be bothered to pray and to be persistent about it, then I likewise feel less inclined. Faith without you working is dead. That's the praying part. So be inspired and keep up your prayer vigils in your war rooms for they are having a great effect. This answer you obviously can see; the others are by faith...but just imagine...and believe! I love you.

Azure Blue angel: Be encouraged, for your faith has made you whole and jettisoned you into the spirit realm—all so unseen, but so totally seen by those who believe in the spirit realm; who acknowledge its existence! It is the reality trying to burst forth on your landscape. It's breaking and crumbling the walls of carnality, the fake 666 frequency of the usurper! It's thinning the veil, dear one, and that's pretty exciting for you—and for all of us too. We also long for that time! So let this remind you once again of His power and how you can trust His promises. This is all so easily forgotten by the carnal mind because it doesn't compute. The mind can't figure it out. It can't be understood because it can't be seen. So it slips through its fingers. How convenient. So fight to retain these miracles; defy that dumb carnal mind that all of a sudden has no 'intelligence'. It is so fickle! It turns to 'other loves' so easily and continually and easily brings to mind unwanted thoughts, past, unrelated-to-the-spirit-world memories, useless information, worldly songs—all such froth and bubble—but can't or doesn't want to retain the incredible reality of the miraculous, unseen-but-seen ways of faith! So turn that around and testify to yourself and others of all His wonderful ways and care for you. Sing out your praises for Him and just wash away that useless jelly-for-a-backbone carnal mind. It doesn't want to understand, so forget it and toss it out with the dishwater. Let's move on! Without it!! That's the goal. Praise the day a way today and make Your Husband very happy and your enemy very mad!

Clear Blue angel; Prophecy: The enemy of permanently moving through the barrier, which you call the veil, is the carnal mind. The carnal mind keeps bringing you back to the world of possibilities. It's a prophet's greatest enemy. The carnal mind wants you to stay in the shallows, where the water only comes up to the knees and where the feet can stand firmly on the sand. The carnal mind is afraid of the deep water because it can't see the bottom and it can't put its feet on the sand. Deep water is like the spirit world, shallow water is like the material world. You can stand in the material world but you can't stand in the spiritual world. You have to float in deep water, or you'll sink. You have to float in the spiritual world also. When you are out in deep water, your carnal mind is always trying to get you to head back to the shallows, because it wants to put its feet down. Either that or it wants to swim across the deep water to the other shoreline so that it can put its feet down there. The carnal mind hates the ocean because it is too far to swim across it, so it likes to stay close to the shore so that at any time it likes it can easily go back and safely put its feet on the sand. The spirit world is like the ocean and it has deep cosmic waves that we can and do ride on.

Receiving prophecy is like swimming in deep water; you can't see the bottom. There doesn't seem to be another shoreline off in the distance that you can swim to easily, where you can put your feet down to feel the comfort and safety of that sandy bottom. The carnal mind is also afraid of prophecy. Believing in the Word is like swimming in deep water. The Word and prophecy are the same; they are deep water. If you don't like deep water, then chances are you won't want to leave the shallow shoreline and swim on out. The carnal mind also hates the Word, because it is deep and the carnal mind doesn't understand deep; it only understands shallow. That's why it likes to go back to the shallow water; it feels safe there surrounded by the things that it understands. If the carnal mind doesn't understand something it reads in the Word, it quickly runs back to the safety of something it does understand. Azure brought this point out very clearly. Let me requote her right now. "It is so fickle! It turns to 'other loves' so easily and continually and easily brings to mind unwanted thoughts, past, unrelated-to-the-spirit-world memories, useless information, worldly songs—all such froth and bubble—but can't or doesn't want to retain the incredible reality of the miraculous unseen but seen ways of faith!"

The enemy is standing on the shoreline, just out of the shallow water. The enemy hates all forms of water, because water signifies the water of the Word, and the enemy, as you know, hates the Word. So they, the enemy, are standing on the shoreline, calling and enticing and goading and using all sorts of unfair tactics to try and get the carnal mind to come to them. (Now "they" can represent anyone, be it the Devil, a friend, a Family member, a pastor or anyone that is trying to keep you in the shallows.) We, on the other hand, are in deeper water. Let's say the water is just above waistline. We have our arms out ready to catch you if you start sinking. And we are also trying to entice you....but into deeper water. We know we can't get the carnal mind to come; it, as I said, doesn't like deep water. So we are trying to entice your faith to step out of the carnal mind and start paddling. The mistake some of you are making is you are trying to bring the carnal mind with you, and that is a problem. When the feet lose contact with the sand, the carnal mind panics and turns back to the safety and comfort of the sand. It's what you call falling back into those old habits that Azure mentioned, and sometimes this happens only a few minutes after swimming out into some really deep water during Word class. Another problem some of you encounter is that when we call your faith to leave the carnal mind and swim out to us, it's afraid because these two have been shoreline buddies for a long time. They have played around in the shallows their whole lives together. The carnal mind will only allow faith to venture out a little before it is calling faith back. Faith, of course, obeys carnal because faith isn't that strong a swimmer. And faith isn't a strong swimmer because carnal has, all their life together, tried to keep faith away from reading too much Word or none at all. So poor faith can only dog paddle or in some cases not even that. Carnal doesn't care to swim in deep water, and faith, because of its predicament, has never learned how much fun it is.

Only One Year

So what are we to do? The reality is you have a little less than one year to learn how to swim. Your parents have been swimming out in deep water for quite some time. They are proficient enough, but even they at times head back to the shallows to play with carnal mindedness. But they are learning to more quickly recognize the danger of doing that and are now beginning to stay in deeper water for longer spells. We, and when we say we, we mean everyone our side of the veil, the whole Kingdom of God, need you to come out into deeper water. Your faith has to start feeling comfortable out here. For one thing, it is safer out here. The shoreline is not the place to be during tribulation. The only way your faith is going to start feeling safe out in deeper water is if it first says goodbye to the carnal mind –permanently and starts taking serious swimming lessons with us, your coaches. And that can only happen if you start obeying what we are telling you to do. If you don't obey our instructions, then the carnal mind will continue having strong control over you. In other words, the enemy's sirens will have more power to entice you toward the rocks and his ultimate goal, your destruction.

I want to touch on a lesson that was brought out before you all came into the City: Unheeding and unbelieving ears are a symptom of carnal mindedness, and they are the reason you're not swimming out to meet us. You don't believe the Word you're reading; you're not fully embracing the thought that what you are reading is fact. We quoted a little ditty together during the classes we had on unheeding and unbelieving. It was about feeling, faith and fact. What does fact represent in that rhyme? If you remember, fact didn't fall or get pulled off the wall. When feeling and faith took a tumble, it stood firmly and then pulled the other two up. These Words that I'm speaking to you now are fact. The Word that says "the Keys of the Kingdom will buoy you up and you will walk on the water" is fact. You will walk on water, and that means deep water. The written Word and the living Word in prophecy are fact. They are buoys that will support you in the deepest of deep water. There is only one way you are going to get out of that shallow water and that is to start applying the principle of obedience all the time. You must bring every thought into obedience to your Lover's law. His Word is law; it is written. You will never experience true freedom until you leave the shoreline of carnal reasoning and its childish ways. Once you are out in deeper water –if you default to carnal mindedness and run back to your childish ways every time your feelings take a fall instead of grabbing the buoy of the Keys, prophecy and the Word, it is obvious where your destiny, commission, ministry and life will end. The Word is the swimming rules you must follow. If you don't follow the rules, you will get fearful and either drown or swim back to shore where your fake buddies and carnal support system are. They will be sure to comfort you and do all they can to try and persuade you not to go out into deep water ever again. If you allow fear to grip you whilst out in deep water, they may very well succeed and you, more than likely, will never want to swim out here anymore.

Last night I woke up with the enemy attacking me over the Word we are putting out in our Blog.

The Midnight Attack

Last night's attack on your mind is a good example we can use to drive this lesson a little deeper into your spiritual mind. It's the enemy of course. Who else would be lurking around at those hours harassing you about your beliefs? He loves to catch you when you first wake up and are disoriented. That's the preferred hour for his armies to attack. If you don't sleep with those keys at your side, then he's going to get quite a few hits in before you get your pants on. If he sees these midnight attacks are working, then he'll up the ante. In time he will wear you down, and he won't stop until he wears you out. It's tiring we know, but you've got to look at it like this: Jesus is allowing him access to teach you warrior readiness. It is to strengthen you spiritually. When that purpose is accomplished, the worm hole he uses to get close to you will be closed. You should never think that we don't have the power to stop him before he enters your spiritual space; that thought is a lie planted there by the worm himself. And watch out for the time-detonated bomb he leaves behind. He almost always leaves some thought or memory trigger that he'll use after he's already left the scene. It's one of those carnal-minded thoughts or memories that Azure mentioned. Always have a cleansing prayer after a skirmish with the evil one, as you never know what he's left behind in your mind. It's a continual fight to stay Heavenly minded. Putting on the mind of Christ is a constant putting on. It's not something that sits on your head permanently. We are at war and the battlefield is the mind, so that is where deadly warfare is waged. One of the rewards Jesus is going to give you for fighting this battle is full-possession, and full-possession, as the word denotes, is full and complete, done and finished. Once you have proven your fealty through this trial of faith, then you are presented with faith's reward. That goes for any battle you fight and overcome the enemy in.

It takes a lot of spiritual and physical effort to keep the battlement of your mind on full-time invasion alert. But that is what you have to do, and if you don't, then of course the enemy is going to attack. Yet even if you are on full-alert, that doesn't mean the enemy isn't going to attack the city of your mind. Your spiritual mind has to be constantly closing shutters and windows and watching all weak areas and potential worm holes, which sad to say, your carnal mind keeps leaving open or worse still, opening again; because it wanted some fresh air or some such silly thing that Azure pointed out earlier... It is as if you have an enemy in your very own camp, always coming behind you and opening something you thought you'd closed. The trouble is, this enemy is yourself. You are your own worst enemy. Paul summoned up this enemy pretty well when he said: "Oh wretched man that I am, who can deliver me from the body of this death?" His spiritual mind, the mind of Christ, is subservient to the law of God. That is the law of love, but his carnal mind, which Paul calls his flesh, is the culprit that causes him to sin without reason, or so it seemed to him. "For the good that I would I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I do." (Romans 7:18-25)

This is why it's imperative that you leave the carnal mind behind in the shoreline shallows. Next time you catch it opening a worm hole or window to your mind, shove the errant member in and close and lock the door. Keep a watch on it; because the carnal mind is very accustomed to having its own way and can also play the "dumb guy" very well. It acts as if it doesn't understand that it is unwelcome company. So it will keep knocking on that door until at some unguarded moment you open it and then, like an unwanted and aggressive guest, it will push its way into the room, and surely the Devil will slip in right behind old carnal, hoping he will be unnoticed as he seeks out the nearest shadow to hide behind. Often you'll find him behind that curtain hanging over the window; he's a wily thief. You can't really blame carnal for thinking he's always welcome, afterall you did let him in again. Gird up the loins of your mind, beloved, leave carnal and the enemy on the shoreline and break loose with us into the realm of the spirit forever. Here's a fact for you...It is altogether possible to leave old carnal forever. "To the carnal mind this is impossible; but with God all things are possible."

My City is very vast. The spiritual mind is part of My city. You could say that the spiritual mind is a city within a city, or a suburb within My City. The spirit world is much vaster than you realize. Each mind is like a mini universe. I have given each person a set of Keys that opens different levels within the city of their mind. It's all within My City, and I keep an especially close watch on events that happen within My city, so you needn't fear that things will get completely out of control. To reach the door to each level you need to successfully pass through the level below it. You are presently at a level that requires you to leave the carnal mind outside. You realize that in the material realm, which you are presently in, you can only use a small percentage of your mind, which the world calls your brain. Your brain of course is just jello, which will sooner than later perish along with the flesh. Although the carnal mind of man tells him that he can overcome anything if he puts his mind to it, My Word, which is the fact in this matter, states that the mind of man is the enemy, and that the sooner you shove it out the door and lock it for good, the sooner the Keys to different levels will begin working. The Millennium is very very close now, and we are going to need you, or should I say the millennials are going to need you. So you are going to have to have your wits about you. You don't want to land in the Millennium in the same carnal minded state as all the people you are there to help. If that is the case, then you might find yourself sitting in class as one of the students and not as the teacher.

Prayer

Dear Jesus, Please Jesus, we call on the power of the keys. We bring our carnal minds before You; we ask that You help us to leave them in the land of impossibilities. We want to become as children, simple little children, because we want to enter into the Kingdom of Heaven, Jesus! We want to go into the spirit now because as You've told us time and time again, this world is a sinking cesspool of lies and deceits and make believe! Well, Jesus, you've told us through the Words of David that we are called and chosen as Endtime prophets! We don't know the future, but we do know already through our prayers we are doing wonders and miracles and performing feats that have never been performed before! We are calling on this whole world to be saved, for this whole world to be turned to good in preparation for the Millennium! We're asking for San-Badh-Mahl and the White Angel endowed with power from high. We've just been told that we've been given access, personal access, to the Blue plasma stream, which is something that is given to Blue Angels! We may not be Blue Angels, but we are under Blue Angels or we are the apprentices of Blue Angels! It says that in the Word. You've told us this before. Jesus, we rebuke and bind our carnal mind that is stopping us, that is holding us down, that is weighing on us, that is like an anchor; that is like a heavy weight holding us to this Earth! It's stopping us from reaching our destiny! There are miracles to be had, there are miracles out there but...it's all by faith and can only be reached by faith, through faith's doorway, through the doorway of our Blue Angels! Please Jesus, take away this carnal mindedness, this earthiness, this deadness of spirit and give us the minds of wonder and amazement. Give us the minds of children! Jesus, help us to see where we can walk and not be blinded and short sighted, but to really truly see what You are offering us. We have to walk in the spirit! This is not going to be given to us! The prophets of old that did all those miracles saw something that we're just not quite seeing at the moment! Well, that's why we're in the City with You and our Blue Angels and Family members that have passed on. I know they're all around us. If we'd have faith, we could see them and we could hear them talking. Please Jesus, we want this more than life itself. We want to be part of this, Jesus! We don't want to let this pass us by. We don't want to walk on in the flesh and miss this incredible opportunity that You've not given to anybody since the beginning of time, which You've offered to the Children of David, those children that have continued to walk on by faith! So please, help us to continue this journey upward; help us not to be pulled down by the flesh and our carnal mind, Jesus. Please, we want the Keys of Desire. We want the keys of Humility that hang between the breasts of our Blue Angels. We want this, because only our pride is stopping us! Pride is the blockage that the carnal mind feeds on! We ask that You cut it off Jesus! Take us into the spirit. Help us to desire it; to believe it by faith! Believe it, anything that we pray for from now on has to be and will be by faith! Faith can bring down mountains; faith can bring down the kingdom of Satan! It's all in the Keys; it's all in the power of our spirit helpers, because it's all been given to us through them, through You, through the Keys, through Your word. They're our vital companions! These are the key to the spirit world! We can walk on water! We can! We can move mountains! We can do all that the Bible says that the prophets of old did and more! More than You did! More than the prophets of old! So please Jesus, please help us to break through! Only the Keys can do it! Only our faith in the Word can do this! Nothing else can do it! Nothing else! So please anoint us, empower us, and enlighten us! We call on the Golden keys of Enlightenment! We ask for Tola and Tor to show us how they work! We ask for our Blue Angels to enhance! We have the power now to channel the plasma stream into these keys, to make them blue and gold, to teach us, to show us; to enhance this key for our own benefit. Please Jesus, for the benefit of others, take away selfishness, greed, the things of this world all the things that block us from reaching this power, touching this power, channeling this power. Make our conduits, our channels, as clean as can be. We call on the keys of bottle brush. You clean us up! You get rid of all the habits and all the memories and all the things of the Earth. Let all those old things pass away and everything become new. We call on the keys of rising above, of full possession. We call on the keys of Heavenly thought power. We want to put on Your mind. We want to put on the mind of Christ! There's only one way forward for us and that's through the spirit. So please help us now in Jesus' Name!

"Take My hand My love, and let's walk on together, for the night has fallen and the rest of the way you must walk with your Lion by your side. If you hear Me growl, do not fear, for it is a warning to the enemy to keep his ground. My growl is also a warning to you to keep moving toward the City."

What Lucy Saw!

A circle of grass, smooth as a lawn, met her eyes, with dark trees dancing all round it. And then — oh joy! For He was there: the huge Lion, shining white in the moonlight, with his huge black shadow underneath him.

But for the movement of his tail he might have been a stone lion, but Lucy never thought of that. She never stopped to think whether he was a friendly lion or not. She rushed to him. She felt her heart would burst if she lost a moment. And the next thing she knew was that she was kissing him and putting her arms as far round his neck as she could and burying her face in the beautiful rich silkiness of his mane.

"Aslan, Aslan. Dear Aslan," sobbed Lucy. "At last."

The great beast rolled over on his side so that Lucy fell, half sitting and half lying between his front paws. He bent forward and just touched her nose with his tongue. His warm breath came all round her.

She gazed up into the large wise face.

"Welcome, child," he said.

"Aslan," said Lucy, "you're bigger."

"That is because you are older, little one," answered he.

"Not because you are?"

"I am not. But every year you grow, you will find me bigger."

For a time she was so happy that she did not want to speak. But Aslan spoke.

"Lucy," he said, "we must not lie here for long. You have work in hand, and much time has been lost today."

"Yes, wasn't it a shame?" said Lucy. "I saw you all right. They wouldn't believe me. They're all so —"

From somewhere deep inside Aslan's body there came the faintest suggestion of a growl.

"I'm sorry," said Lucy, who understood some of his moods. "I didn't mean to start slanging the others. But it wasn't my fault anyway, was it?"

The Lion looked straight into her eyes.

"Oh, Aslan," said Lucy. "You don't mean it was? How could I — I couldn't have left the others and come up to you alone, how could I?"

Don't look at me like that . . . oh well, I suppose I could. Yes, and it wouldn't have been alone, I know, not if I was with you. But what would have been the good?"

Aslan said nothing.

"You mean," said Lucy rather faintly, "that it would have turned out all right — somehow? But how? Please, Aslan! Am I not to know?"

"To know what would have happened, child?" said Aslan. "No. Nobody is ever told that."

"Oh dear," said Lucy.

"But anyone can find out what will happen," said Aslan. "If you go back to the others now, and wake them up; and tell them you have seen me again; and that you must all get up at once and follow me — what will happen? There is only one way of finding out."

"Do you mean that is what you want me to do?" gasped Lucy.

"Yes, little one," said Aslan.

"Will the others see you too?" asked Lucy.

"Certainly not at first," said Aslan. "Later on, it depends."

"But they won't believe me!" said Lucy.

"It doesn't matter," said Aslan.

"Oh dear, oh dear," said Lucy. "And I was so pleased at finding you again. And I thought you'd let me stay. And I thought you'd come roaring in and frighten all the enemies away — like last time. And now everything is going to be horrid."

"It is hard for you, little one," said Aslan. "But things never happen the same way twice. It has been hard for us all in Narnia before now."

Lucy buried her head in his mane to hide from his face. But there must have been magic in his mane. She could feel lion-strength going into her. Quite suddenly she sat up.

"I'm sorry, Aslan," she said. "I'm ready now."

"Now you are a lioness," said Aslan. "And now all Narnia will be renewed. But come. We have no time to lose."

He got up and walked with stately, noiseless paces back to the belt of dancing trees through which she had just come: and Lucy went with him, laying a rather tremulous hand on his mane. The trees parted to let them through and for one second assumed their human forms completely. Lucy had a glimpse of tall and lovely wood-gods and wood-goddesses all bowing to the Lion; next moment they were trees again, but still bowing, with such graceful sweeps of branch and trunk that their bowing was itself a kind of dance.

"Now, child," said Aslan, when they had left the trees behind them,

"I will wait here. Go and wake the others and tell them to follow. If they will not, then you at least must follow me alone."

It is a terrible thing to have to wake four people, all older than yourself and all very tired, for the purpose of telling them something they probably won't believe and making them do something they certainly won't like. "I mustn't think about it, I must just do it," thought Lucy.

She went to Peter first and shook him. "Peter," she whispered in his ear, "wake up. Quick. Aslan is here. He says we've got to follow him at once."

"Certainly, Lu. Whatever you like," said Peter unexpectedly. This was encouraging, but as Peter instantly rolled round and went to sleep again it wasn't much use.

Then she tried Susan. Susan did really wake up, but only to say in her most annoying grown-up voice,

"You've been dreaming, Lucy. Go to sleep again."

She tackled Edmund next. It was very difficult to wake him, but when at last she had done it he was really awake and sat up.

"Eh?" he said in a grumpy voice. "What are you talking about?"

She said it all over again. This was one of the worst parts of her job, for each time she said it, it sounded less convincing.

"Aslan!" said Edmund, jumping up. "Hurray! Where?"

Lucy turned back to where she could see the Lion waiting, his patient eyes fixed upon her. "There," she said, pointing.

"Where?" asked Edmund again.

"There. There. Don't you see? Just this side of the trees."

Edmund stared hard for a while and then said, "No. There's nothing there. You've got dazzled and muddled with the moonlight. One does, you know. I thought I saw something for a moment myself. It's only an optical what-do-you-call-it."

"I can see him all the time," said Lucy. "He's looking straight at us."

"Then why can't I see him?"

"He said you mightn't be able to."

"Why?"

"I don't know. That's what he said."

"Oh, bother it all," said Edmund. "I do wish you wouldn't keep on seeing things. But I suppose we'll have to wake the others."

WHEN the whole party was finally awake Lucy had to tell her story for the fourth time. The blank silence which followed it was as discouraging as anything could be.

"I can't see anything," said Peter after he had stared his eyes sore.

"Can you, Susan?"

"No, of course I can't," snapped Susan. "Because there isn't anything to see. She's been dreaming. Do lie down and go to sleep, Lucy."

"And I do hope," said Lucy in a tremulous voice, "that you will all come with me. Because — because I'll have to go with him whether anyone else does or not."

"Don't talk nonsense, Lucy," said Susan. "Of course you can't go off on your own. Don't let her, Peter. She's being downright naughty."

"I'll go with her, if she must go," said Edmund. "She's been right before."

"I know she has," said Peter. "And she may have been right this morning. We certainly had no luck going down the gorge. Still — at this hour of the night. And why should Aslan be invisible to us? He never used to be. It's not like him."

"He's beating his paw on the ground for us to hurry," said Lucy. "We must go now. At least I must."

"You've no right to try to force the rest of us like that. It's four to one and you're the youngest," said Susan.

"Oh, come on," growled Edmund. "We've got to go. There'll be no peace till we do." He fully intended to back Lucy up, but he was annoyed at losing his night's sleep and was making up for it by doing everything as sulkily as possible.

"On the march, then," said Peter, wearily fitting his arm into his shield-strap and putting his helmet on. At any other time he would have said something nice to Lucy, who was his favourite sister, for he knew how wretched she must be feeling, and he knew that, whatever had happened, it was not her fault. But he couldn't help being a little annoyed with her all the same.

Susan was the worst. "Supposing I started behaving like Lucy," she said. "I might threaten to stay here whether the rest of you went on or not. I jolly well think I shall."

"Obey the High King, your Majesty," said Trumpkin, "and let's be off. If I'm not to be allowed to sleep, I'd as soon march as stand here talking."

And so at last they got on the move. Lucy went first, biting her lip and trying not to say all the things she thought of saying to Susan. But she forgot them when she fixed her eyes on Aslan. He turned and walked at a slow pace about thirty yards ahead of them. The others had only Lucy's directions to guide them, for Aslan was not only invisible to them but silent as well. His big cat-like paws made no noise on the grass.

He led them to the right of the dancing trees — whether they were still dancing nobody knew, for Lucy had her eyes on the Lion and the rest had their eyes on Lucy — and nearer the edge of the gorge.

"Cobbles and kettledrums!" thought Trumpkin. "I hope this madness isn't going to end in a moonlight climb and broken necks."

For a long way Aslan went along the top of the precipices. Then they came to a place where some little trees grew right on the edge. He turned and disappeared among them. Lucy held her breath, for it looked as if he had plunged over the cliff; but she was too busy keeping him in sight to stop and think about this. She quickened her pace and was soon among the trees herself. Looking down, she could see a steep and narrow path going slantwise down into the gorge between rocks, and Aslan descending it. He turned and looked at her with his happy eyes. Lucy clapped her hands and began to scramble down after him. From behind her she heard the voices of the others shouting, "Hi! Lucy! Look out, for goodness' sake. You're right on the edge of the gorge. Come back — "and then, a moment later, Edmund's voice saying, "No, she's right. There is a way down."

Half-way down the path Edmund caught up with her.

"Look!" he said in great excitement. "Look! What's that shadow crawling down in front of us?"

"It's his shadow," said Lucy.

"I do believe you're right, Lu," said Edmund. "I can't think how I didn't see it before. But where is he?"

"With his shadow, of course. Can't you see him?"

"Well, I almost thought I did — for a moment. It's such a rum light."

"Get on, King Edmund, get on," came Trumpkin's voice from behind and above: and then, farther behind and still nearly at the top, Peter's voice saying, "Oh, buck up, Susan. Give me your hand. Why, a baby could get down here. And do stop grouching."

In a few minutes they were at the bottom and the roaring of water filled their ears. Treading delicately, like a cat, Aslan stepped from stone to stone across the stream. In the middle he stopped, bent down to drink, and as he raised his shaggy head, dripping from the water, he turned to face them again. This time Edmund saw him. "Oh, Aslan!" he cried, darting forward. But the Lion whisked round and began padding up the slope on the far side of the Rush.

"Peter, Peter," cried Edmund. "Did you see?"

"I saw something," said Peter. "But it's so tricky in this moonlight."

On we go, though, and three cheers for Lucy. I don't feel half so tired now, either."

Aslan without hesitation led them to their left, farther up the gorge.

The whole journey was odd and dream-like the roaring stream, the wet grey grass, the glimmering cliffs which they were approaching, and always the glorious, silently pacing Beast ahead. Everyone except Susan and the Dwarf could see him now.

Presently they came to another steep path, up the face of the farther precipices. These were far higher than the ones they had just descended, and the journey up them was a long and tedious zig-zag.

Fortunately the Moon shone right above the gorge so that neither side was in shadow.

Lucy was nearly blown when the tail and hind legs of Aslan disappeared over the top: but with one last effort she scrambled after him and came out, rather shaky-legged and breathless, on the hill they had been trying to reach ever since they left Glasswater. The long gentle slope (heather and grass and a few very big rocks that shone white in the moonlight) stretched up to where it vanished in a glimmer of trees about half a mile away. She knew it. It was the hill of the Stone Table:

With a jingling of mail the others climbed up behind her. Aslan glided on before them and they walked after him.

"Lucy," said Susan in a very small voice.

"Yes?" said Lucy.

"I see him now. I'm sorry."

"That's all right."

"But I've been far worse than you know. I really believed it was him — he, I mean — yesterday. When he warned us not to go down to the fir wood. And I really believed it was him tonight, when you woke us up. I mean, deep down inside. Or I could have, if I'd let myself. But I just wanted to get out of the woods and — and — oh, I don't know."

And what ever am I to say to him?"

"Perhaps you won't need to say much," suggested Lucy.

Soon they reached the trees and through them the children could see the Great Mound, Aslan's How, which had been raised over the Table since their days.

"Our side don't keep very good watch," muttered Trumpkin. "We ought to have been challenged before now —"

"Hush!" said the other four, for now Aslan had stopped and turned and stood facing them, looking so majestic that they felt as glad as anyone can who feels afraid, and as afraid as anyone can who feels glad. The boys strode forward: Lucy made way for them: Susan and the Dwarf shrank back.

"Oh, Aslan," said King Peter, dropping on one knee and raising the Lion's heavy paw to his face, "I'm so glad. And I'm so sorry. I've been leading them wrong ever since we started and especially yesterday morning."

"My dear son," said Aslan.

Then he turned and welcomed Edmund. "Well done," were his words.

Then, after an awful pause, the deep voice said, "Susan." Susan made no answer but the others thought she was crying. "You have listened to fears, child," said Aslan. "Come, let me breathe on you. Forget them. Are you brave again?"

"A little, Aslan," said Susan.

There really isn't a time when you shouldn't be working the keys and thinking His thoughts; always keeping your mind in the Heavenly realm!
