

The Unseen World

Mold this heart of mine till it only brings You happiness...

All God's Children of faith since the beginning of time have been looking for an unseen World, "a City which hath foundations", Eternal Foundations, "whose Builder and Maker is God"!

"Lift up thine eyes and raise thine heart and cling to thy faith and thou shalt live forever with Me in My Father's House in which there are many mansions. I shall be with thee always, World without end!" I'm going home to be with Jesus. I'm going home forever! You can only stay at His home forever. Heaven is my home! Earth is my footstool, a mere stepping stone to all the glories of God!

So don't let all these NAGGING little details get your MINDS AND HEARTS OFF the end of the road! We'll hit the road again and keep on rolling and nothing can stop us till we've reached the End and that Heavenly City with its Space King Who makes it worth it all!

(Daily Might No.1 [#0690])

2Co. 4:18 So we fix our eyes not on what is seen, but on what is unseen. For what is seen is temporary, but what is unseen is eternal.

They did not accept their feelings as reality. They endured, and persisted in "seeing Him Who is invisible"; they believed in things unseen.

104. They counted the unseen realities of the spirit as more real than what they could see, and thus they were strong and conquered and overcame despite incredible "odds." They were not looking at the "odds" the way the world would; rather they looked at the real "odds"--My Words, My promises to them of reward, the fact that the Enemy was already beaten before he even started, the fact that they had the upper hand and would prevail, because I was in them. (Nothing Is Too Hard For Jesus! [#3658])

The natural man] refuses to believe that anything else exists such as a fifth dimension, a spirit world, simply because he's never seen it or been there, and he's furious at anyone who claims they have because this really puts him down below their level, their fifth dimension--the spirit world, the heavenly--which he says doesn't exist simply because he hasn't seen it or been there.

This is just as stupid as if you were to say, "I don't believe that New York or London exists because I've never seen them or been there!"--And though you travelers in time and space claim that New York and London do exist because you say you've been out of my realm and visited these cities, seen them with your own eyes, I flatly refuse to believe you because I've never seen them or been there myself!" How ridiculous can you get? This is just as silly as the natural man who refuses to acknowledge the realm of the Spirit. ... Poor narrow-minded Flatlander! He just can't face it!

But, brother, I want to tell you something! I've not only heard about it, read about it, seen pictures of it in vision--but I've been there, so I know it exists whether you believe it or not! And unless you're willing to admit that I've got something you just haven't got and that you'd like to have it too, and humbly ask for the truth, confess your limitations, and ask the spiritual men to help you find a whole new world, you'll never know the joys, the beautiful scenes, the gorgeous sounds, and the ecstatic feelings of that marvelous and heavenly realm! (From "Flatlanders," ML #57:2-3, 12-14, Vol. 1).

The soul hardly ever realises it, but whether he is a believer or not, his loneliness is really a homesickness for God.

Yours is a legacy that will last for eternity.

--The legacy of a disciple of Jesus, of a believer in that which is unseen and yet more real than most of the things that can be seen.

Someday all will be revealed; the now invisible will become apparent.

In that day, those who believed by faith will be truly blessed (John 20:29). Those who chose not to believe or follow what they couldn't perceive with their carnal mind will have regrets, while you who chose to follow Me in faith, to live a life based on faith, will enter into rewards which will make every test of life worth the cost.

I never knew a night so black,
Light failed to follow on its track;
I never knew a storm so gray,
It failed to have its clearing day.

I never knew such bleak despair,
That there was not a rift, somewhere;
I never knew an hour so drear,
Love could not fill it full of cheer.

There is no sickness but there is a balm;
There is no storm but soon must come a calm;
No bitter wail but shall give way to a song;
No way so dark but light shall break e'er long.

Light after darkness, gain after loss;
Strength after weakness, crown after cross;
Sweet after bitter, hope after fears;
Home after wandering, praise after tears;
Sheaves after sowing, sun after rain;
Sight after mystery, peace after pain;
Joy after sorrow, calm after blast;

Rest after weariness, sweet rest at last;
Near after distant, gleam after gloom;
Love after loneliness, life after tomb;
After long agony, rapture of bliss;
Right was the pathway, leading to this.

I've built a home for you...I built a place for us—never to part. Hold tightly to My promise and you will see the reward of your faith. Right now, as you stay here on this land, burning out, burning up, the bricks for our house are being laid. Darling, your life is like a fire burning in My heart—you feel no one cares or sees the loss and sacrifice, but brick by brick, I am building this home for us to live together.

2CO.5:1 For we know, if our earthly house of this habitation be dissolved, that we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in heaven.

Remember that you're just a pilgrim and stranger here. Remember that life on Earth is but a vapor. Remember that there is eternity, and the present you live in with all its seeming emergencies is just the smallest speck when compared with forever.

(Surviving and Succeeding, Part 1 [#3693])

I thought of all the times that you experienced loss--sometimes very great loss--but chose to put it in our Husband's hands and carry on for Him, knowing that He was going to care for that which is most precious to you, and that one day there will be no more pain or sorrow. There were all the times that you were wounded in battle and refused to surrender, and then humbly let the Lord tend to your wounds and restore your strength. I know there were so many times you couldn't make heads or tails of what was happening, but you chose to just close your eyes and rest your head on our Heavenly Father's chest, knowing that He would care for you and would work everything out in the end.

You've given so much for Jesus. You've each gone through those scenarios, some of you more times than you can count. You have trusted Him through so much. You've endured and held on and let Him strengthen you. Through the tests, and through the times you've felt stretched, your spirit has grown and matured and become even more beautiful. You may not see it, but others recognize that depth and maturity. It's Jesus' spirit of giving and kindness and unconditional love that they see in you, and it's rubbed off on you during those times when you've had to cry out to Him for the strength to make it through. All those times when you felt you had no more to give, but you asked Him to help you to keep giving anyway--those are the times that have made your spirit so beautiful, so strong, and so humble.

I know the tests are intense. Sometimes when the battles are really raging you can feel like you don't even know which way is up. It's probably happened to you at some point: You're hanging on and enduring for a while, but all of a sudden something happens that throws you for a loop and you wonder, "Wow, do I really have what it takes?" It can make you question yourself or your faith on some pretty fundamental levels.

The Enemy is wily like that. He loves to make things seem so confusing and messed up that you really wonder what's going on. But during times when you feel confused or shaken, you have to hang on to what you know the true realities are--which generally have nothing whatsoever to do with your emotions or how you feel about the situation. You have to remember that no matter what things look like, no matter how great the problems, no matter how confusing the questions, or how hopeless the circumstances, all of that will pass, but Jesus and His love and His truth and His plan for your life will still be intact.

You have to retreat into what you know is truth, what our Husband has told you-- what He's told us as a Family. His perspective is reassuring and it's comforting and it's challenging, and it's worth hanging on to. It will endure. It will stand the tests of time. It will still be there, unchanged, when the storm is over.

With the mission that we're engaged in, we can count on the Enemy continuing to fight, and fight even harder; that's something we know. But we have to mentally and spiritually and emotionally prepare ourselves for it, so it won't surprise or destabilize us. The Enemy hates you. He hates the victories you're helping to win. He hates the results that are changing the world. And he knows that despite his best efforts, he'll never be able to stop the flood of truth and love and light that you're helping to bring into the world. So he's going to play dirty, and when he pulls out his worst tricks you can sometimes feel pretty overwhelmed. But, as the Lord recently reminded us, while the Enemy will try to fool your mind, and while he can try all sorts of attempts to confuse you, and upset you, and bother you, and irritate you, and discourage you, in reality, you can win over him absolutely any time you choose to. If you fight, you're destined to win, and he's bound to lose. (See "It's a Fight," ML #3718.)

A key in almost any battle the Enemy brings against you is simply remembering the true reality of the situation. So often the circumstances, your emotions, your feelings, your outlook or what you perceive, will be the complete opposite of what the Lord tells you about those situations. And that's where faith comes in. That's why faith is the victory. Faith is believing what the Lord says rather than what you see, hear, feel, or experience with your physical senses.

When you're really getting sluggish around in battle, faith is often what's lacking. So when you feel like that, call a timeout on trying to figure things out, and instead, strengthen your faith. Adjust your outlook to be in line with what the Lord and His Word say rather than what you're feeling. Find a promise that fits your situation, and hold on to it with everything you have in you.

Holding on to the Lord's reality rather than the "reality" of your feelings or circumstances makes all the difference in the world. It doesn't usually dissolve the battle, but it makes it easier to bear. It ensures that you'll make it through the battle. After all, faith is your shield.

You're a fighter! You're a winner! You're the kind that doesn't quit! You're one of those who were foretold 2,000 years ago, who will come out of great tribulation with your robes washed white in the blood of the Lamb (Rev.7:14).

The battles are difficult; I know, because I experience them too. And I just have to mentally "schedule" them into my daily life, and I just expect them and I'm ready to battle through them to the victory that I know is always there. So I don't have to get upset, and I don't have to get worried or fearful. It's just one of those things in our lives, because of who we are and what we're doing. We're not fighting for ourselves, nor for petty earthly reasons, but for eternal ones. The Enemy uses earthly circumstances to make you feel beleaguered or weary or discouraged, and it can be a pretty effective tactic, because we do have to deal with this earthly reality, and it's sometimes difficult and draining. But the reason we're fighting, and the cause we're fighting for, is so much greater than all the earthly circumstances that surround us.

We're fighting for the eternal souls of men. We're fighting today so that tomorrow His righteousness will cover the Earth "as the waters cover the sea," so that one day there will be "no more sorrow or pain" (Hab.2:14; Rev.21:4).

Everything that the Enemy tries to use against us is insignificant in the big picture, and he knows it! They seem so big and bad at the moment, but in reality they're here today and gone tomorrow. You know it too, and that's why you hang on day after day, and choose to lift your eyes above the problems, above the rough patches, above the sins and mistakes and difficulties and human frailties--your own and those of others--and keep working to show Jesus and His love to the world. You know that He's worth fighting for! He's worth living for.

He truly is so good to us. And though we all have to do a lot of giving and stretching and taking things by faith each day, I really believe that in the end we'll say with conviction, "I never made a sacrifice."

Thank you for all you give for Jesus every day. Thank you for bearing His babies, raising His children, and going into the "uttermost parts of the Earth" to bring His lost children His love and truth. Thank you for caring so unselfishly for all the flocks He's entrusted to your care, despite the pull of your personal needs or desires. Thank you for pressing on through the battles and keeping the true reality before your eyes.

I can hardly wait for the day when all the earthly battles are won, we're together forever in Heaven, and the moment comes for you to receive your heavenly reward. I want to be there for that moment, because I know it will be spectacular! It's going to be beautiful, awe-inspiring, emotional, and life-changing.

It truly will be worth it all.

We're yours forever. [#3727])

When our eyes are washed with tears, they can better see the invisible land where there shall be no more tears.

(Trials & Triumphs)

One day, you will see everything clearly. Earth is a place of confusion and smoke and, yes loss. I know, because I have experienced life in the flesh, and I know the haziness of that life. But one day I will make all clear in your eyes and where there was doubt and pain, there will be clarity. Come close to Me now and I will remind you of your Home and you'll hear its symphonies calling you and giving you peace amidst the storm.

Endure, as seeing Him Who is invisible. Obey by faith. Be faithful, even if you think it's unto death. There's a crown of life coming, and a hundredfold awaiting you, even there on Earth! Have respect unto the recompense of that reward--look forward to it, upward to it, and do all in your power to obtain it! It's worth it!

(Brazil National Prayer Day 2003 [#3456])

Faith is the invisible bridge between what you see and what you can't see. Faith spans the gap and obtains miracles. Even if you die in faith without receiving the fulfillment of the promise, you are more than a conqueror, because you walked by faith and not by sight, and you did what you were supposed to do and you finished the course.

(Faith--Now and Forever! [#3699])

From now until then, faith is the only connection that you have to this side. It's nothing you can see, nothing you can feel, and nothing you can prove. It only exists in the hearts of those who love Me.

And when you have faith, you somehow know, even if you don't know at all. There's something beyond the physical, something inside you that makes that link and connection, even though the path is so unapparent to the carnal mind.

(Faith--Now and Forever! [#3699])

Through your afflictions you're learning to endure, and you're learning to smile through the pain. You're learning to speak faith, to trust, and to know that even if it looks as though everything is not going the way it should go, I'm not failing, and I'm not deserting or forsaking you. I am answering your prayers. I'm healing you by strengthening your faith and your spirit.

For faith is believing in things you don't see or feel.

Faith is knowing

(Comfort in Affliction, Part 3 [#3417])

However, some things I put before you are not clear, or not fully understandable, for these are for the trying of your faith and patience. Therefore wrestle not with your mind, but follow your heart, for this is where I dwell.

(From Jesus with Love 1)

Heb.11:27 He endured,
as seeing Him Who is invisible

Spirit helper:

Keeping this miraculous vision before your eyes means things don't as easily destabilize you so easily. When you are having a battle or something doesn't work out or you are asked to forsake yet more, you don't see it in such a negative way. You keep your eyes on the truth, that this life is only for a time and very soon these things will be no more. Very soon you won't be in the flesh and all that your flesh deems so important will be no such thing anymore. You will be completely a spiritual being and a new training will begin. Right now we the warrior band are, one way or the other, passing through the training of the Earth life. Whether through being you on Earth's guide or by actually being there in flesh. But this is not the end of our purpose as a band. There's so much more ahead of us. The Lord has a plan for us as His special team of people who are willing to do anything for Him. Do you want to serve Jesus for as long as you exist? Because this is what this training is for. It doesn't end once you reach Heaven. Jesus needs His fighters, trained and Earth is the means He is using. Earth isn't the only plan, there is so much yet to come. But it is so important that it determines what you will spend eternity doing. Only those who pass this Earth test will be able to enter the next level of training. Only those who give now, will be able to receive ranking up Here. It's so important that you give your very best now, because this test is only given once. People so often disregard the importance of this life and the decisions made, when these decisions determine a lot in your future in Eternity. Eternity is a long time, and this time is so short, but it counts for a lot of training.

It's a major boost in the right direction for all those who pass their personal test. As for you the Children of David/ Warrior Band you have a lot to lose, if you don't make this life count, but also a lot to gain if you give it your all.

A lot is at stake here, it's not just a little decision you are making when you decide not be a disciple. You are now accountable to follow through on your destiny. If you don't, you'll be so sorry. We your close knit team will be sorry. Yes, there was a risk factor in us accepting this challenge. We all knew that there was a possibility that some of our Band wouldn't make it back victoriously. We knew that this Earth life was an extremely tough journey. We were all made to understand what was the deal. We knew that in order for us to be the Band that Jesus needed, we had to pass through this fire. We needed to go on in our training and we needed to see our pieces broken at the feet of the Lamb. We were a strong team, undefeated. We were untouched by the feelings of loss and heartache. Yet, we loved Jesus; we loved Him with a great love. Each of us had already sworn our loyalty to Him when we were initiated into this Band. Yet, our love needed to be proved and we needed to be broken that He might use us more mightily. So He rent our Band in twain. Some remaining Here others embarking on the mission called Earth Life. Every one of us would now experience what testing, trial, heartache, loss and even seeming defeat actually felt like. It has been a long time, a long battle but very soon now will the Warrior Band members return. We will all be together again. Some of us won't have fulfilled what we were supposed to and that is very heartbreaking. We who didn't pass won't be able to resume our membership and go on to greater training, but will have to begin to unlearn all that they shouldn't have learned on Earth, then perhaps depending on how ready they are, their past life will be slowly revealed to them. It was their decision and all were presented with the choice multiple times. The Warrior Band are special class of people and although they are just like everyone else, they also do get the Word. If they're from the warrior band they have it in their life's plan that they will be presented many times in their journey of whether or not they will serve Jesus. It is their commission and the Lord makes it apparent to them. It's all left to choice.

Sweet one, keep stepping forward believing because those who do return Home having fulfilled their destiny will have all of Eternity stretching out before them. They will be Jesus' most intimates. They will be His Band He will call upon and will trust because they have already proven their love for Him. Keep the vision of what is before you and do not lose your focus because you know what is at stake and what you stand to gain or lose. I love you.

76. That, My loves, is the power of keeping the heavenly vision. So do it! Let nothing sway you. Hold on to it and it will hold on to you, and the day will soon come when we will reign together on Earth. I love you.

But this is a fleeting world, one which is soon to pass away, and if you set your heart upon this material world to the neglect of the spiritual world, the true reality which will endure forever, you will regret it in the world to come.

But then, after going to Earth, of course those remembrances faded. You're caught up in the thoughts and feelings and priorities of Earth and the flesh, and it's hard to accept certain things about yourself. It's hard to keep working toward the goals that you and I set together before you went to Earth. It takes a lot of faith. It takes a lot of humility to accept that this is the way I made you. It takes a willingness to step back from the things of Earth and see things through the eyes of the spirit. And these are things that don't come naturally to anyone in human flesh. It's a fight.

Some of you are dissatisfied with your physical body or (circumstances), or preoccupied with one part of it, to the point that you want to do something drastic to change it, and you feel that if you can't change it, you don't have a chance at real happiness. But consider whether, even if you could change it, it would really help you to be happy. Would it help you to achieve your long-term goals--the strength of spirit, the rising-above ability, the humility and unselfish love, the maturity, the wisdom, the inner beauty that you chose to strive for while in Heaven? Would it make you a better and more understanding vessel of My love to others? What kind of testimony would it be?

These are choices only you can make. But when you are so unhappy with something about your body or your place in life, stop and think deeply about what I'm telling you here. Think not just in the short term, your life on Earth, and how it might make you feel immediately. But think of this in the long term, think of what you are on Earth to do--to grow in spirit, to gain experience and spiritual maturity, to grow in love, in humility, in unselfishness, to bring others to Me, to show them My love, to enlighten them to the ways of Heaven. Would changing things about yourself (or your circumstances) help you to achieve those goals, or would it distance you from them?

What everyone around you needs from you--and I really mean everyone--is unselfish love, true friends, understanding, faith, encouragement, someone who is interested in them and loves them for who they are.

So even if you were able to make extreme physical changes, you would find that it didn't really change all that much. If you want a change in your life and the way you feel toward others or when around others, it's your spirit that needs to change. And the way to change your spirit is to become more full of Me and My love and My Spirit. That's what's really going to make all the difference.

Remember too that there are special things you wanted to learn on Earth. These are things you decided and desired when you could see things much more clearly through the eyes of the spirit than you can now. So even though you don't remember all those things, try to stay focused on the goals of the spirit--the attributes which will remain a part of you long after your earthly body is dead and gone--the beauty of spirit which you are building day by day through your choices of love, humility, and unselfishness. That's the beauty that will last forever.

Cultivate the desires of your spirit, and give your spirit to those things that will nourish it and strengthen it. Exercise your spirit through stretching yourself to be more unselfish, more giving, more willing. Feed your spirit well with the nourishment of My Word. Bathe in My cleansing, revitalizing elixir which washes away the old and dying and gives way to the new. Rest in My arms. Share your spirit with others so that it becomes experienced in loving and stays practiced in how to love. All these things enhance your spiritual beauty and give you a shine that will remain for all eternity.

So regardless of how much you like or dislike your physical body or (circumstances), the most important thing is to feed and maintain and nourish your spirit. When you're trying to change things in the physical, consider: Does it help you to reach your spiritual goals? Does it make you more beautiful in spirit? That's what you should be most concerned about.

And remember, My dear ones, you're the way I made you, the way you chose to be, and you're beautiful to Me. (End of message.)

(Shooting Straight, Part 5 [#3503])

Jesus: There's tough choices ahead, and I need your love to be strong enough to make the right decision. I need to be able to trust you. That is why I heap it on you right now. I have to know how much you love Me, and you need to know far you are willing to go. You can go all the way. Not many can or want to do this, but here you are, on the path and walking in the right direction. It's not an accident; you saw it all so clearly in the Heavenly Realm. You knew this was exactly what you wanted. You saw just how much you would gain from entering this tough mission field. You knew exactly that going through this would give you and Me what we were looking for. Though you don't remember nor see as clearly anymore, the truth and reality still remains.

You are beginning now to understand that what the flesh thinks is gain is usually seen differently in the spirit.

You so fear being unhappy and sad and losing everything you think you need... you don't trust Me because you don't understand why I must be so very strict. It's not strictness...this is My love unbridled.

It takes faith to let My intent and heart be seen. In humility I show you My desire and My heart. I'm not trying to rob you of all enjoyment and pleasure. I am taking you down the path so few have even been willing to consider. It's so supernatural and to the carnal mind extreme and unnecessary. It's so hard on your heart and mind right now; you don't even want to think about it. You are still aching from past forsakings and this "revelation" isn't so welcome to you. But beloved this is My heart...this is Me and this is My deepest desire. Don't immediately think: what to take everything away and just make me a pain resistant spiritual being continuously hardening myself against the pain of forsaking... now in Heaven too!?"

That is carnality to say the least, because the only way to have true joy is if I am the most important thing to you. I want to enjoy Heaven with you. And really, what is Heaven without Me? What is love and joy if I am not in it? Even right now you can see that this is true. I have given you the opportunity to be one of the happiest of all My creation. Do you believe this is true? This is My heart I have borne to you. Please cherish it and come and follow and I promise I will make you happy...all because you are just focusing on making Me happy. This is the way. Are you willing? Sweet love, pick up the pace you have been lagging. You are getting tired, but pick up.

I am with you and as you continue on by faith I will fulfill in your life all My promises. What else do you want to live for? Pleasure and enjoyment? Those only go so far. Only I have the ability to satisfy completely no matter times you try Me or use Me I am max satisfaction every time.

Spend your life on Me and I'll be everything to you. And yes, darling when I fully possess you, you won't have much else on your mind. Yes, I will treat you and pleasure you, but it will be Me reaching out and giving you gifts not you selfishly seeking them. What the carnal mind doesn't seem to grasp is that you don't get happy by seeking self-satisfaction, it's quite the opposite.

When you turn your eyes to others, to Me that is when you will be happy. That doesn't mean not doing anything pleasurable that just means it's not your focus. When you get Here I will do all that for you, but your focus will be on Me thus your joy and pleasure will be complete. If you give Me everything here and now, when Heaven comes your mind will have been used to submitting to Me it will be so soft in My hands and with such a mind I can do anything. This is pleasure like you never known to be with Me so completely. I so desire to bestow this gift on you My sweet darling. But you must first tell Me that you want it. Show Me you want it by opening your heart and life to Me fully. Bring Me into the corners and let's brighten them up. It's not going to hurt forever. You are in the flesh right now, so you really do hunger after these things. But hang out and hang it up, I'll be coming soon to melt into you and wash away all the pain. The pain is to keep you on the straight and narrow path, without it you would become lax, so darling trust Me. Your human mind can't comprehend it right now, but I need to keep your flesh in line and your spirit maturing which usually means breaking in some way. It's there to remind you that you aren't living on Earth, you are on a mission for a short time, so wait for Me and I will take it all away in My good time. Tell the world I am coming and believe and comfort yourself with the same truth. I am coming for you, to love and lavish you.

My goal is God Himself, not joy, nor peace,
Nor even blessing, but Himself, my God;
'Tis His to lead me there, not mine, but His
'At any cost, dear Lord, by any road!

From the beginning I created your heart to want Me. You saw that you wanted Me and I loved you through My words that pricked that special place in your heart.

That place that has always been there just for Me. My words fill that place in you.

I will give you the energy to get up again, to breathe in the air of My Spirit and find renewed vigor and life.

I will give you faith as you hang on to My promises and put them into action.

Let it be yellow, My love, die and burn and give everything you have and let it be yellow, and blue with the beautiful tears you cry.

And it was called Yellow

And to me yellow means;
i did it because i loved you

My Father could not deliver Me from the cross, even though His entire being ached to release Me. The pain I felt, the suffering I endured, tore at His heart, He couldn't watch Me die on the cross. His love for Me was so great that He couldn't deliver Me or take Me away from the suffering, no matter how great, because He knew that My reward, My glory, would be worth that moment of torture and beyond.

You are worth that suffering to Me.

Now i took my turn
I did it because i loved You

One day, My loves, you will say the very same to Me:
"You are worth that suffering to me."

How glorious are the crowns of those who struggle through difficult hardship, through desperation, through dismay and through fear, and yet carry on. For these are like the widow who cast in her last mite, and they feel as if they have no more. But they know not the great and wonderful honor that I will bestow upon them for their sacrifice and for their willingness to hold on and to trust Me, though all around it seems that I have failed them. And though they feel that I have failed them, yet they trust Me. What honor I will bestow upon them, for great is their faith

Jesus i realized that i am going to be disappointed by everything but You ...but that doesn't make it hurt any less...

Fix your thoughts on Me and meditate on My power, greatness, and love, until you are confident of My love and care for you despite what does or doesn't happen to you on Earth.

If you know that I love you, you know that everything is going to be okay. I don't ever stop loving you.

I climbed many mountains & I was almost always alone

... Jesus, climbing the mountain is indeed a thing we do alone... when we take Your hand and agree to climb up with You, we are agreeing to walk alone... and it's steep. There's not any comfort to be found on this brutal rock face... it's hard and it cuts me and causes me to bleed.

But on the mount alone, you feel so close to the Lord!

This is a lonely place

Remember that this is a matter of faith, not proof. The knowledge that I am here, that I love you, and that I care for you isn't something you will be able to prove through circumstances or carnal means. It's a matter of pure faith, a knowledge somewhere in your heart that I am the God of the Universe, and that I am love, and that My love will never fail.

Unless you are broken you will not have this closeness to His voice, the dependency on Him, the total yieldedness that it will take to fight the battles.

YOU HAVE ALREADY BEEN IN THIS DESOLATE PLACE AND YOU'VE MADE A WAY

CAUSE YOU FIND ME AND BRING ME BACK HOME

The tests and trials that come your way today may seem big and hard to you, but they are preparing you and strengthening your faith for what is to come. That faith will be your salvation in the days to come.

Great is your reward in Heaven for your faith to receive, to believe, and to live the Words of God.

That is what you are doing here

No matter what, you must have faith and trust that I know, I love, I care.

The key to fully knowing My love is to accept it in faith, to close your eyes and open your heart to My Spirit, to My whispers, believing that I do indeed love you as I say I do.

Do not dread these Words of life--for they are given that you might have the strength to survive the days ahead. Eat them with joy and with faith, and this spirit of faith will be imparted to your children.

Most of the time, serving Me is a life of simple faith, believing without seeing, believing without feeling

This life will never be perfect. You'll never be perfect while you're in this life.

The only things that can be perfect are the things I give: perfect peace as you let go of concerns about yourself and hang onto Me; perfect fulfillment as you stop trying to do it all and let Me do through you whatever I know is best; and perfect faith that even though you falter and fail, you trust fully in My unconditional love that will never fail to hold you close and turn everything for good.

i believe ...help my unbelief

The reward of faith is seeing what you have believed in, in My time.

I believe Your words have power ...i believe Jesus ...i know You won't let me down

Life on Earth includes hardship

I expect hardship and disappointment

But please help me to trust You through whatever comes...

i need Your strength and Your stability because i am weak

I need grown, mature, strong men and women of faith, those who have faced life's struggles and pain, and who have experienced the depths of sorrow and trial, who know what it means to ache, to suffer, to weep, and to despair.

Comfort, faith, and peace of mind will be yours as you call on the keys.

If you feel that the darkest hour has come upon you and you just can't seem to snap out of it no matter what you try to do, call on the keys for help, and they will lift you above circumstances and conditions, and help set your feet firmly on the Rock again.

I will hold, comfort, and encourage you, and with the power of the keys of surcease bring supernatural calm and peace to your troubled and weary heart.

Can you commit to believing in the keys and using them no matter what they do or do not seem to do for you? Can you commit to holding on in faith, like Job held on to Me, despite what it seems I do or don't do for you?

Can you commit to believing in My promises simply because I have asked you to, even if for no other reason I've given you? Can you commit to putting faith in the keys, praising Me for them, and being an advocate of the keys, even if you never see one single manifestation of their power?

The right choice is often the hard choice

That was a choice to suffer, just because he knew it was right.

Job made a statement of faith, that even if what I had told him to do, even if what I had told him to believe in, proved to be wrong--not only wrong, but deadly--he would still trust in Me. Why? Because his love for Me was so strong that not even death could shake it.

You are the God Who stays, till the morning breaks

You came with a whisper
I couldn't find You...but here You are --with me
